MURDER PLOTS FEARED

MUKDEN SEIZURE ANNIVERSARY

MANCHUKUO PRECAUTIONS

Changchun, Sept. 15.
Some anxiety is felt in official circles here regarding possible serious incidents on the second anniversary of the Mukden Affair, which marked the opening of the Japanese invasion of Manchuria.

It is stated that several "murder groups" have entered Manchuria lately with the intention of assassinating prominent Manchukuo and Japanese officials at Changchun, Mukden and other centres.

According to reports said to have been received here from private sources, the menace must be regarded seriously.

POLICE ALERT.
It is alleged that the conspirators are timing their plans for September 18, the anniversary of the Japanese occupation of Mukden.

The police at various ports are now making a more detailed examination of all arrivals from China, and all persons believed to possess anti-Manchukuo affiliations are being closely watched.

GRAND-DAD AT SCHOOL

L.C.C. WINTER PROGRAMME

BROAD SCOPE OF SYLLABUS

London, Sept. 14.
About a quarter of a million Londoners, mostly, but not all of them, young will next resume their studies under the extremely comprehensive system existing in the Metropolitan area for providing continued education.

The Winter programme, mainly organised by the London County Council, offers a choice of no less than 20,000 classes on almost every conceivable subject.

Most of them deal with languages, branches of science and art, handicrafts, professions or trades, but the syllabus is sufficiently broad to include such subjects as lip reading for the deaf and the cure of stammering.

The importance of these classes is indicated by the fact that during the current year 65,000 boys and girls are leaving the London County Council Schools and the evening classes enable them at a trivial cost to specialise in subjects likely to be helpful to them.

There is no age limit to the classes and, in one instance, a grandfather, aged seventy, is studying in company with his son and grandson.—British Wireless.

Stockbroker's Wife Gets Damages

Los Angeles, Sept. 14.
Damages amounting to $575,000 were to-day awarded to Mrs. Marian Read, who sued the film star, Miss Clair Windsor, for alienation of the affections of her husband, Mr. Alfred Read, the stockbroker.

Plaintiff claimed a hundred thousand dollars.—Reuter.

BIG FIRES IN KOWLOON

HEAVY DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

UN LONG BLAZE

Two fires broke out on the mainland in the early hours of this morning, in both of which extensive damage to property was caused.

The first outbreak occurred at the New Territories market town of Un Lung, in a building of two floors, the lower of which where the fire originated, was occupied by a shop dealing in miscellaneous goods including joss-paper.

Commencing at 1.40 a.m. it continued to burn until 2.45 a.m. when the local fire pump was reinforced by an engine from Kowloon in charge of Station Officer Moss. By this time the adjacent structure in this two-building block was also being attacked by the flames.

With two pumps working, the outbreak was within a short time brought under control, and finally extinguished.

The contents of the two buildings were burnt out and much structural damage also caused.

DYEING WORKS BURNED OUT.

The other outbreak was also of an extensive nature, the scene being the Yim Sim Dyeing Works at 217 Cheungshawan, beyond Shamshui. The fire occurred at 3.10 a.m., but it was not until a little after 4 a.m. that a call was received by the Kowloon Fire Brigade, by which time as well can be imagined, considerable progress had been attained by the flames.

Clothing and equipment to the value of over $2,700 were destroyed by the time the firemen got to work, with three appliances, and extinguished the fire, it is claimed, in eight minutes.

The whole building was practically destroyed.

MORE DISARMAMENT CONVERSATIONS

The Paris and Geneva Conferences

London, Sept. 14.
The Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs Capt. Anthony Eden, who is going to Paris at the week-end to discuss various points regarding disarmament with members of the French Government, to-day had conversations at the Foreign Office, first with the President of Disarmament Conference, Mr. Arthur Henderson, and afterwards with the Chief American Delegate, Mr. Norman Davis.

The Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, is at present in Scotland, but will lead the British Delegation at the General meeting later in the month.—British Wireless.

The wedding will shortly take place of Mr. F. H. Donald, accountant of Knutsford Hotel, Kowloon, to Miss Frances Ellen Thomas, 855, Rue Batard, Shanghai.

RECOVERY HYSTERIA

STRONG DEMANDS FOR INFLATION

PRESIDENT'S PROBLEM

Washington, Sept. 14.

The tacit admission in official circles that the great prosperity drive has fallen far short of its objectives has given rise to an atmosphere which almost amounts to hysteria in some sections of the community.

The newspapers are giving great space to developments and the demand for currency inflation to provide further impetus is growing stronger.

The belief is growing that the President will be compelled to embark on an inflationist programme and a strong hint that the dollar may be devalued was, in fact, given by Mr. Harrison, the chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, who said it was necessary in order to raise commodity prices.

SENATOR'S PREDICTION.

Mr. Harrison predicted that President Roosevelt will take some action to raise prices "pretty quick"—whether call it inflation or not.

He added: "If he does not, Congress, when it reassembles in January, will force him to do something."

In the meantime, the policy of the Administration seems still to be to keep inflation in reserve and to use it only as a last resort.

R.F.C. POLICY.

Steps are now being taken which are designed to encourage financial houses to lend more freely to business and to industry and thus promote the recovery programme.

Mr. Jesse Jones, the chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, announced to-day that the Corporation, which has about a thousand million dollars available, will make loans at three per cent. for any part of six months to banks and trust mortgage companies, which will then be expected to re-lend the money to industry at the reduced basic rate of four per cent.—Reuter.

STOCK MARKETS' GOOD TONE

IMPROVEMENT NOTED IN KAFFIRS

London, Sept. 14.
The stock markets generally left off with a good tone although in several instances values closed under the best.

British funds were firm with war loan 3½ per cent. at 100 9/16, German bonds mostly lost one point.

Kaffirs registered improvements on the day but in some cases the best points were not maintained. International were generally good on the higher opening advice from Wall Street.—British Wireless.

POLICE FIRE ON STRIKERS

New York, Sept. 14.

Scenes of violence even more serious than those which marked the strike of a month ago were witnessed at Uniontown, in West Pennsylvania, to-day when the coal strike commenced officially.

Serious bloodshed occurred in the early morning during rioting at the three mines in the Fayette County coal area.

Six were shot down and over twenty were clubbed. The police, according to reports, opened fire on the strikers after trouble with the pickets, who grew violent.

The entire area is now virtually in a state of martial law.

The miners are striking as a result of the delay of the proprietors in signing the Coal Code, which provides for a thirty-six hour week and a minimum wage of three dollars a day.

Warning of the strike intention was given at a mass meeting held last week.

MARTIAL LAW.

Soon after first news of the outbreak of violence was received, the Governor of Pennsylvania hurriedly and secretly drafted orders for the mobilisation of the National Guard and the military forces are being rushed to the danger zone.

All steps are being taken to place the region under military control till the trouble blows over. Meanwhile, the Administration is greatly displeased by the developments and President Roosevelt has sent Federal agents to Uniontown to investigate the shooting and the cause of the outbreak.

PATIENCE BROKEN DOWN.

The President's patience regarding the delay in signing the Coal Code has finally broken down as the result of the outrage, and he summoned Brig. General Johnson, the Recovery Administrator, to the White House and ordered immediate conclusion of the negotiations, declaring that the time has come for "definite action."

INTERNATIONAL TENNIS

CRAWFORD LOSES TO SHIELDS

Lake Forest, Sept. 14.
Despite the defeat of Jack Crawford by Frank X. Shields, Australia beat America in a friendly international tennis match here to-day by three rubbers to two.

The best of three sets was played in each match, with the exception of one of the doubles and Crawford was defeated by two sets to one after winning the first.

This follows almost immediately upon his defeat by Perry in the American Championship.

The Australian had a hard battle to win the first set, Shields contesting it until the 12th game, but in the next two sets the American was all round superior and won quite comfortably.

PARKER BEATS McGRATH.

Frankie Parker, the young America prodigy overcame Vivian McGrath in a battle of "youthful giants" in straight sets. Parker's ground strokes were flawless.

Adrian Quist created one of the biggest surprises of the tournament by beating Keith Gledhill after losing the opening set.

The Australians played splendidly to win both doubles matches. Crawford and McGrath easily beat Shields and Parker, this being the only match allowed to go to four sets. The Australian pair won three of them after conceding the first.

Scores as cabled by Reuter were:

SINGLES.

A. Quist (Australia) beat K. Gledhill (America) 3-0, 6-2, 6-3.

F. Parker (America) beat V. McGrath (Australia) 6-4, 6-2.

F. X. Shields (America) beat J. Crawford (Australia) 5-7, 6-3, 6-2.

DOUBLES.

Crawford and McGrath (Australia) beat Shields and Parker (America) 6-8, 6-4, 6-3.

Quist and Turnbull (Australia) beat Lott and Stoeffen (America) 1-0, 11-9, 6-3.

BAVARIAN AIR INCIDENTS

BORDER VIOLATION ALLEGED

BERLIN ASKED TO PROTEST

Munich, Sept. 14.

Austro-German relations are likely to be subjected to further strain as the result of the alleged territorial infringement of Bavaria by armed Austrian aeroplanes.

The German authorities are considering diplomatic action regarding the alleged incidents, which are reported to have occurred on several occasions in the last few days.

Herr Esser, Chief of the State Chancellery, has requested the Foreign Office in Berlin, to lodge a strong protest with the Austrian Government and to demand the disarmament of the Austrian police planes.

Herr Esser also urges the need for measures adequately to protect the frontier of East Bavaria.

INVASION FEARS.

The allegations follow closely upon the announcement that the Austrian Government were sending a number of aeroplanes, privately owned but in the charge of police pilots, to the frontier to assist the frontier guards to meet the menace, which is feared of invasion by the Austrian Legion formed in Bavaria.

Berlin has not yet given sign of the action it proposes to take on the complaints from Herr Esser.—Reuter.

CATHOLIC CONGRESS.

Considerable comment was called forth in Vienna on Saturday by Cardinal Archbishop Innitzer's refusal to accede to the request of the Legist Party to issue an invitation to Archduke Otto von Hapsburg, the eldest son of the late Austrian Emperor Karl, to attend the Catholic Congress which opened on Sunday.

In his letter to Colonel Wolf, leader of the Legist Party, Cardinal Innitzer stated that it had been impossible for him to invite those members of the Hapsburg family who were residing outside Austria as it was undesirable that the Catholic Congress should be interpreted as a political demonstration.

PAPAL LEGATE IN VIENNA.

The Papal Legate, Cardinal La Fontaine, is attending the Congress of the Austrian Catholics and the festivities in honour of the 60th anniversary of the famous St. Stephen's Cathedral. The distinguished visitor was welcomed by the President of the Republic, Herr Miklas, Chancellor Dollfus and other members of the Cabinet.

More than 10,000 people lined the streets through the Opera Square proceeded to the Legate's residence where Cardinal Archbishop Innitzer, surrounded by ecclesiastical dignitaries, a corps of officers of the Vienna garrison and delegations of various Catholic congregations awaited the Legate and escorted him to the Cathedral where Cardinal La Fontaine said a short prayer before proceeding to his residence.

Doctors and nurses endorse Nonspi, the safe, mild, efficient deodorant. Today, over a million women rely on Nonspi to prevent the embarrassment of unpleasant underarm odour and to save clothes from ruinous perspiration stains. Nonspi is safe. It merely diverts the moisture which regularly accumulates under the arm to parts of the body where better evaporation takes place. There can be no harmful results. Nonspi contains a special ingredient not used in any other deodorant. This increases its safety and efficiency and prevents irritation of the tender underarm skin. For applying Nonspi use cotton. Laboratory tests, conducted for over a year, prove cotton the most sanitary means of application yet devised.

It was dad's usual greeting.
Jimmy only answered when he had mother?"

cuff just below her elbow.
Jane attained the popular square shouldered effect by circular ruffles on each shoulder of her dress.

BUTTONS ON YOUR BELT

so popular, a combination of the two makes one of the smartest ensembles of the season. A navy blue satin dress the novelty belt add the required note of fantasy. The "Well," blurted out Jimmy,

"you said to wear those good stockings and I knew if I'd get a hole in them I'd get scolded."

"You needn't have gone with those boys."

"I asked you and you said yes. I didn't know they were going down by the pond to hunt crabs.
I left my shoes and stockings at Scrappy's just to save them."

"Yes—I suppose so! Well, that's not all. He left his wheel out in the yard. When I went down street it began to rain. It was out in all that downpour and now it will be rusty. I worked and saved to get him that bicycle and now he can't take care of it."

The Mother's Version

"I do take care of it. I cleaned it and oiled it yesterday. I wouldn't have left it there but when I came back from the store
you said I was to call Tommy right away. So I ran in to the telephone and after that I forgot it."

"That's not all," went on his exasperated mother. "He lent Tommy one of the books out of his new set a month ago. I just missed it to-day and now Tommy's mother can't find it. The set is ruined."

"I'll turn up. Tommy always lends me books. This one's his
I didn't know it would get lost."

"All right. You always have a million excuses. But you won't get up, when you're called, you don't keep yourself clean, you don't do anything. You are just a bad boy."

"I'm ashamed of you, son," said his dad. "Sit up there and get off your neck. You're going to be a hunch-back some day. And stop frowning. You haven't anything to scowl about. Your mother
I are the ones to be mad."

His parents are in the house now so you and I will have a whispered conversation about Jimmy.

The Urge For Activity

Do you think he was a bad boy?
I don't.

In the first place his greatest crimes were thoughtlessness and perhaps some carelessness. Who of us is not both many times a day? In the second place, not only natural but rather decent motives prompted his seeming lapses in conduct. In the third place, he is a boy, a growing boy, with sudden impulses and a terrible urge for activity. In the fourth place, for every one thing he did wrong, there were probably a dozen he did right.

If his parents continue to be blind to his good points and to judge him too harshly, he will get a permanent scowl, not only on his face but on his very soul.

CHAPTER XXII

The next few weeks were busy for Eve. Outstanding in importance was the opening of the new theatre which was to be a gala occasion in Lake City. Dick brought home several invitations for the opening night. Admittance at the first performance, he explained, was to be strictly invitational. The following evening the theatre would be open to the public. "There will be lots of offers to buy those invitations at a nice premium," Dick said, "but I would like to catch anyone selling his!" He asked Eve to give one of the invitations to Mrs. Brooks, who had been continually considerate and thoughtful. Two others were for the teachers who lived on the floor above. There were several left and these Eve was to pass on to some of her friends at the store.

The newspapers had devoted much space to the impending event and Lake City in general looked forward to it. The morning of the opening Theron Reece telephoned Eve at her office.

"Just wondered if you could get me a couple of comps for the opening show to-night," he said. Eve told him she was sorry but she had nothing to do with distributing the invitations.

Arlene was going to the performance with Sam Helderidge who had taken her out twice since Freda's party. Eve helped Arlene select a new frock for the occasion. During the noon hour they slipped into the dress department and it was their fortune to have Freda show them the newest gowns.

"Just a minute!" Freda said suddenly. "I've an inspiration!" She brought into the fitting room a soft rose chiffon with myriads of tiny ruffles. Its low-cut neckline gave it a touch of sophistication.

"It's the most romantic looking dress we've ever had here," Freda declared. "I telephoned one of our wealthiest patrons the minute it came in and she took it on my recommendation. It was lovely on her; she had the same dark colouring you have, Arlene. But the next day she returned it for some unexplained reason and I've been waiting for just the right person to wear it."

Arlene eyed the dress wistfully. "Even with my employees' percentage off," she said, "it will set me back terribly—but I can't resist it. I've never worn anything as lovely as this dress!"

She stroked the soft ruffles gently. "I've never had places to wear such things," she went on, "but now that I have the dress I'll make occasions to wear it!"

That evening Eve sat in the brilliantly lighted theatre and looked happily about her. The ruby red mohair seats were rapidly filling with beautifully dressed women accompanied by men in severe evening clothes. Down in the second row Dick had seated Mrs. Brooks and the teachers. Mrs. Brooks was wearing a black dress that had been carefully made over and embellished with the heavy gold and amethyst jewelry that had been a gift from her husband. The older of the teachers wore her "convertible" black net dress from which the sleeves had been detached for the occasion. Saturday afternoon the sleeves would be sewed back in place for the annual reunion of her normal school class. Miss McElhinney was charming in flowered yellow taffeta with tiny puffed sleeves and she apparently was much intrigued by a handsome young cellist who sat before her in the orchestra pit.

Dick had made a last minute check of the heating and lighting equipment and was now busy backstage. He would join Eve after the performance began.

He had reserved a box for their guests. Eve had invited Arlene and Sam, Marya and Ray. They made an attractive group—Arlene glowing in rose chiffon, Marya wearing forget-me-not blue satin, and Eve with her lustrous honey-coloured hair and pale gold lace dress. Eve wore one green orchid at her shoulder and her wrap was lined with green.

The heavy cerise curtains parted, the lights went down and all eyes were turned toward the stage. First on the programme was a feature motion picture starring a popular actress. This was followed by a few vaudeville acts of especial merit.

Suddenly from behind a shimmering silver curtain stepped a famous vaudeville star in an ermine wrap. Her white gown was studded with brilliant, accentuating the blackness of her hair and eyes. Her dynamic songs charmed the audience, her sparkling wit captivated them.

Smiling and holding out her arms, she exclaimed, "This wonderful theatre—I must congratulate you upon having such a beautiful building in your city. It is the most beautiful house in which I have ever appeared. I hope" (and here she smiled again), "that you will appreciate it!"

Eve, too, hoped that Lake City would appreciate it. She knew something of the tremendous cost that had gone into its construction and decoration. She was amazed at the thousands of dollars which had been spent to provide gorgeous curtains and drops for the stage. She knew that the rare vases and furniture in the lobby were immensely expensive and that the paintings on the walls were originals. The auditorium itself had been decorated in cerise and silver and black. Arlene declared that the powder room was "an interior decorator's dream come true," while Marya praised the artistic combination of woods and fabrics in the smoking rooms.

The next day Mona Allen confided to Arlene that Theron Reece had invited her to the new theatre for the night when it opened to the public.

"I had another invitation, too, but I accepted Mr. Reece's because he asked me first," she added. Arlene smiled wisely and said nothing.

A few evenings later Dick took Eve, Arlene and Sam backstage during a performance.

"When I see what applause means to the actors," said Arlene, "I am ashamed to think I ever let the curtain go down after a good performance without showing my appreciation. Just see how hard they work to please us—and there is no other way we have of showing them they have succeeded!"

to her. "I'm about to go on," the girl said. "I do a dance in this number."

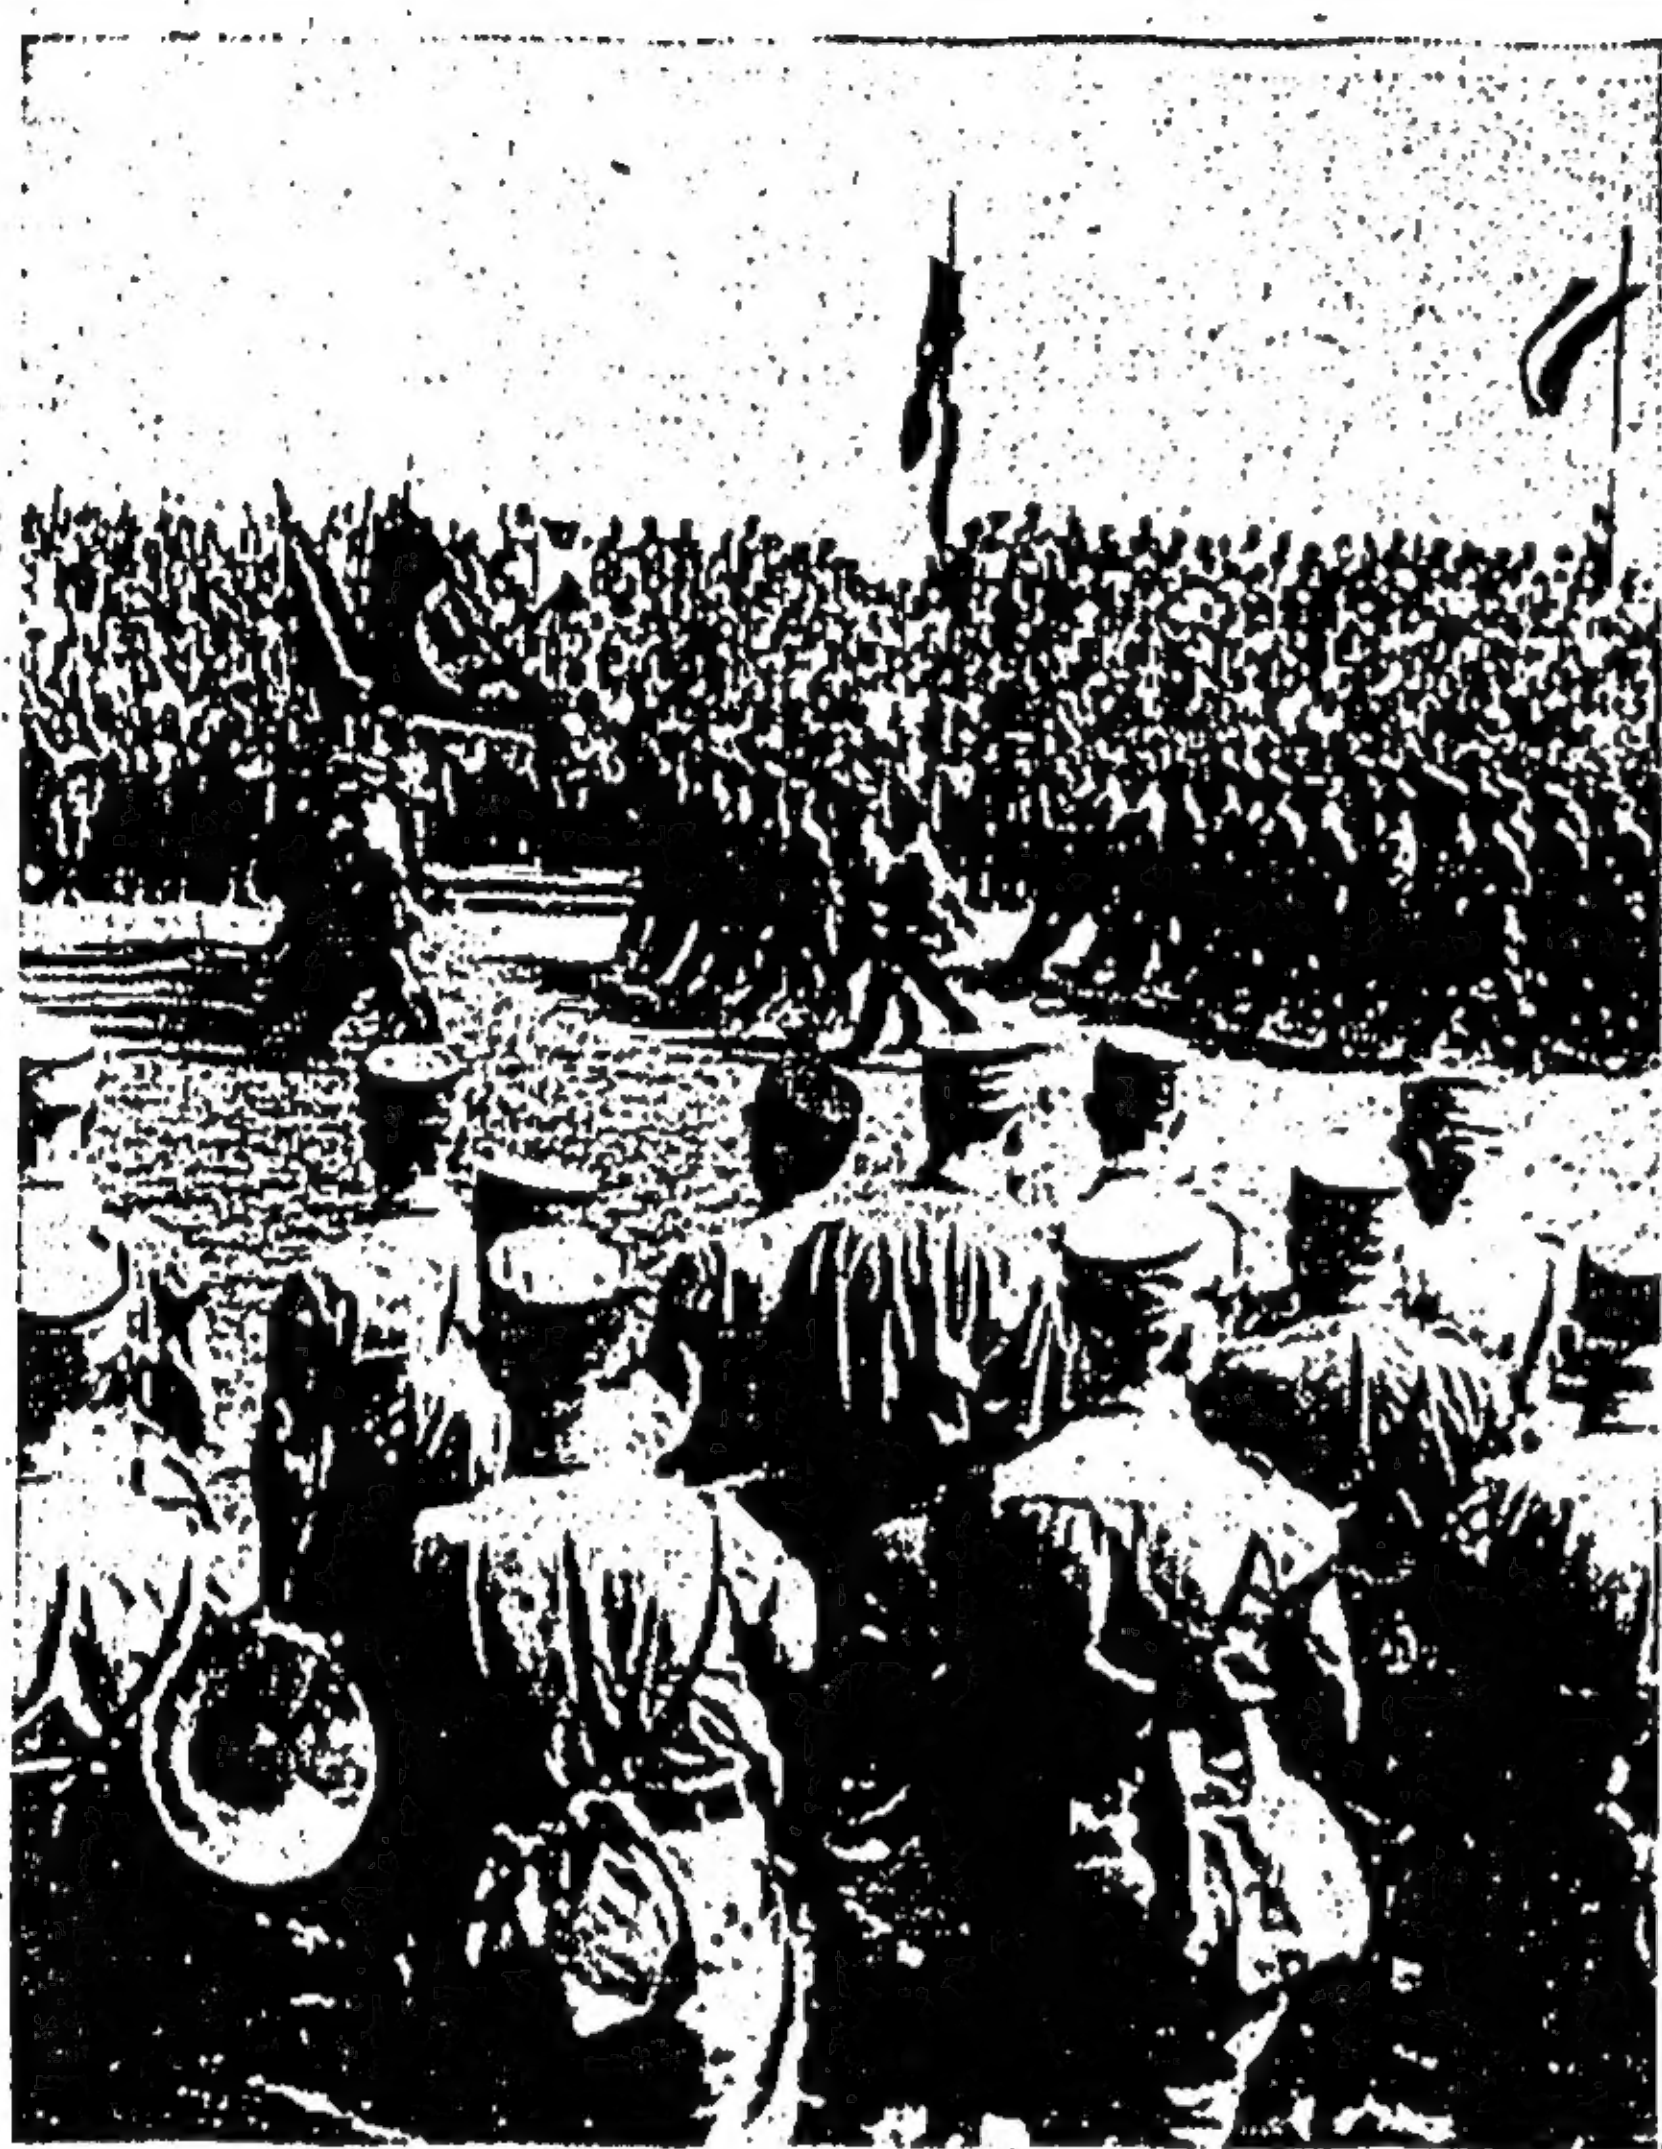

"That's a lovely gown you are wearing," Arlene offered. "Thanks. Do you like my wrap?" the dancer asked, unfolding a bundle of blue she carried under her arm. "You see, it's an evening party and I enter wearing this." The girl arose and wrapped herself gracefully in the metallic cloth. "My aunt made it," she added naively.

A few moments later they were to see her discard the wrap and in the course of her dance balance herself on one hand, the chiffon gown falling down about her in delicate petals, her slim young legs erect like the stamens of a flower.

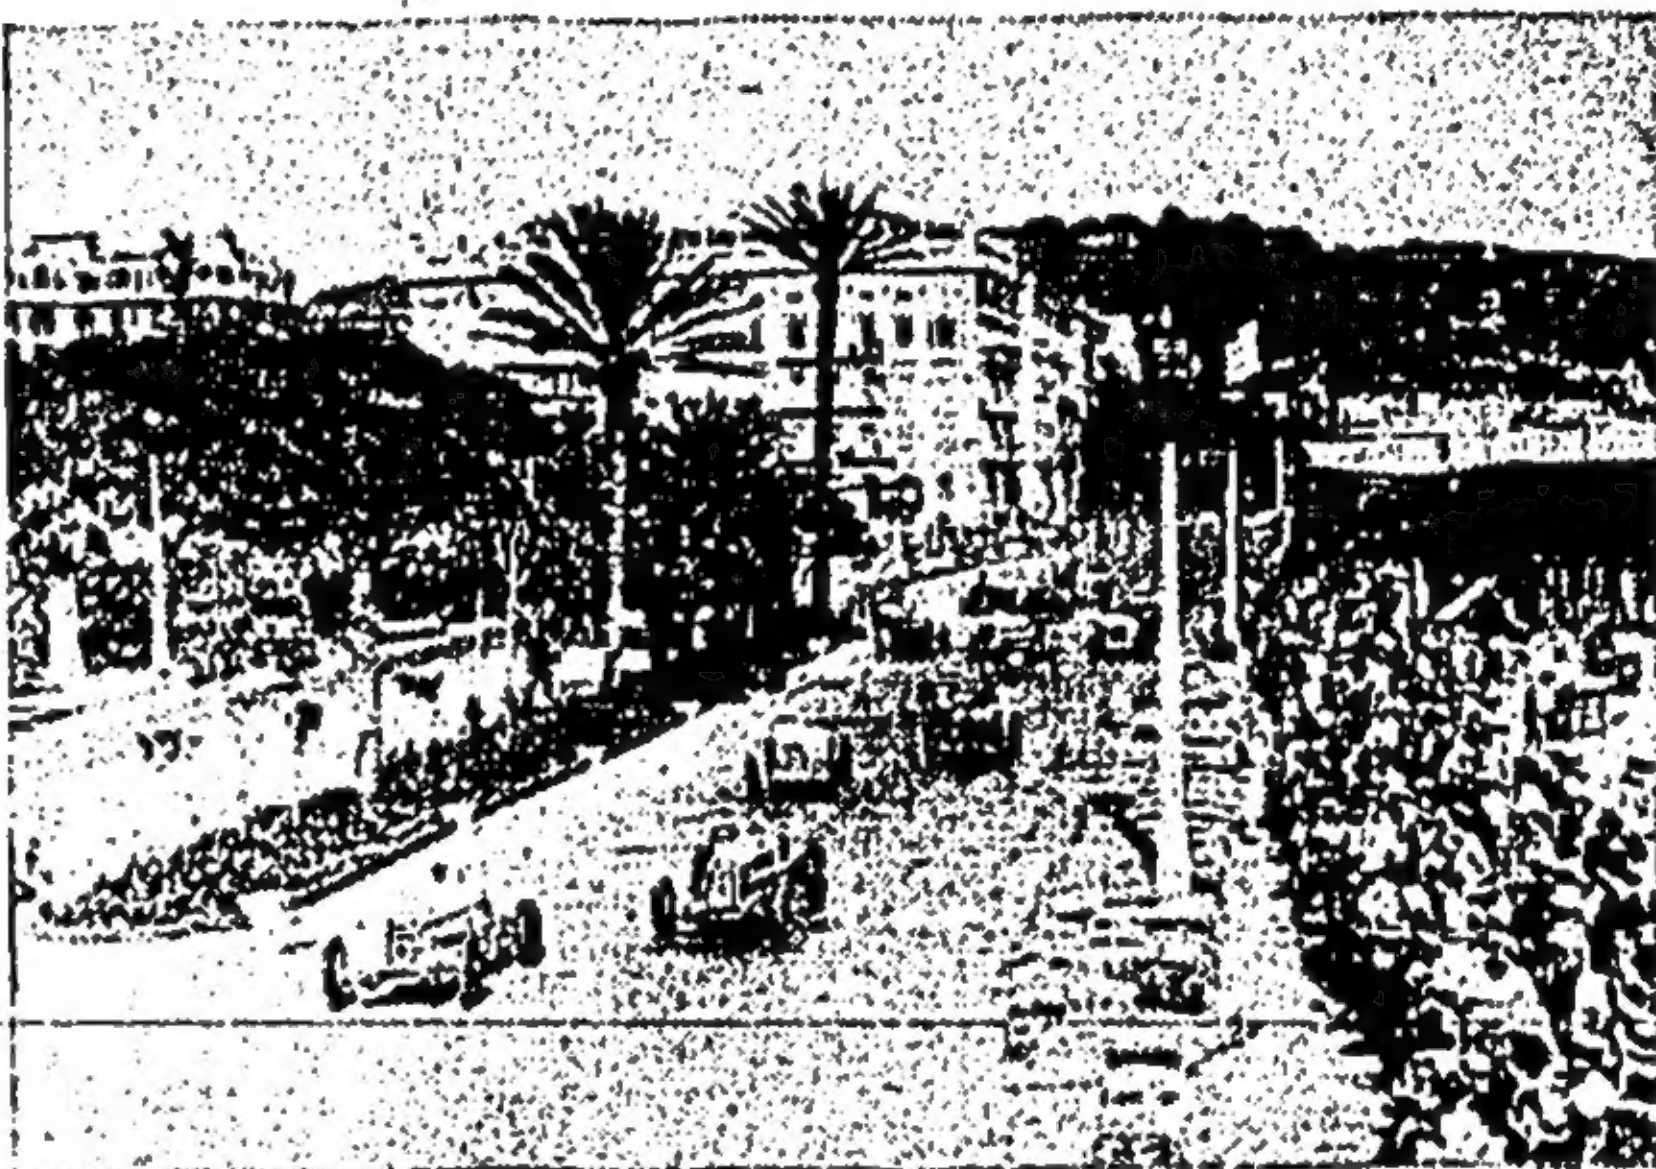

When she came off the stage again the little dancer, breathless, joined Dick's party to watch the remainder of the performance. Apparently she craved approbation. She frankly enjoyed Eve's praise and chattered gaily with her. Eve, slim and graceful herself, suddenly felt thick and clumsy in the presence of so much animation. The girl paid marked attention to Dick. "Aren't you afraid to let your heart work in this fair of temptation?" Arlene asked with mock horror.

"Oh, no! I'd trust Dick with Cleopatra herself," Eve answered. But in her heart she wondered if she had so permanent a hold on his affections.

JAPAN'S FUTURE

TIMES APPRECIATES
MANCHURIA SCHEME

London, Sept. 14. Appreciation of Japan's stabilising influence in Manchukuo is evident in the London Times editorial on Manchurian affairs to-day, which comes as comment following the appearance of three articles from a special correspondent in that field.

The paper remarks that the complete suppression of banditry

and hardly be expected in this generation, but it is likely that the Japanese and their local allies will ultimately reduce it to negligible proportions.

As to the balancing factors which are likely to weigh in future relations between Japanese and Manchukuoites, the Times places in one scale the achievement of conscientious Japanese officials: making examples of the stabilisation of currency, practical development schemes, which even now the Chinese are discussing, and the generation and advantages of which Chinese peasants and merchants will appreciate despite their natural antipathy to foreign domination.

On the other side of the scale, the Japanese are temperamentally too reserved, perhaps, the Times thinks, to be good mixers with the Chinese; and their ambitions may tempt them to extend the sphere of their continental influence too widely.

The Japanese, says the editorial in conclusion, must demonstrate that they can manage the Chinese as well as rule them, realising that some day Manchurians may prefer to take their advice in preference to their orders.—Reuter.

CHEERO CLUB
QUARTERSCONDITIONAL SITE IN
BEACONSFIELD ARCADE

The "Cheero Club," which came to an end owing to the closing of the City Hall, and which in the past has done much for the benefit of the men of His Majesty's Services in Hongkong, was again set on its feet last evening at a meeting at Government House, convened by Lady Peel, and at which Hon. Sir Henry Pollock presided.

In the course of a short speech Lady Peel mentioned that the Government had offered a site on the corner of Beaconsfield Arcade, on condition that they put up a building costing at least $25,000, and appealed to the whole community of Hongkong to find money to build the greatly needed Club for the Service-men.

Lady Peel and Sir Henry Pollock were supported by H.E. the G.O.C. Major-General O. C. Borrett, Commodore Frank Elliot, the Bishop of Victoria (Rt. Rev. Ronald Owen Hall), His Honour Mr. J. R. Wood (Chief Justice), Sqdr. Leader Wood, R.A.F., the Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall, the Hon. Sir Shou-son Chow and Mr. J. L. MacPherson.

Others present included Lady Pollock, Mrs. O. C. Borrett, Mrs. J. R. Wood, Mrs. Tinson, Rev. N. V. Halward, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Tratman, Mrs. Kemble, Lieut. Fisher, R.N., Mr. Murphy, Mr. T. E. "CUP OF AGONY"

GANDHI NOT TO COURT
IMPRISONMENT

Poona, Sept. 14. The Mahatma Gandhi has undertaken not to court re-imprisonment by offering aggressive civil resistance until August 8, 1934, although he will not modify his advice to Congress, urging individual civil disobedience.

He arrived at the decision, which he describes as a "bitter cup of agony," at the end of his protracted talks with Jawaharlal Nehru.

Jawaharlal Nehru states they faced two questions—the larger national issue of freedom and Gandhi's personal struggle. He added the Mahatma's leadership was still essential, but it was desirable to define the objective of the movement more clearly.—Reuter.

BANKING RECONSTRUCTION

The problems of industrial reconstruction, which are to-day engaging the thought of some of the best brains in Britain, have seldom been more clearly explained than in a report on banking, finance and investment submitted in the last day or two to the annual conference of the Labour Party. The origin of the analysis will doubtless prejudice feeling regarding its conclusions in many quarters, although the rapidity with which this spirit is disappearing is one of the most remarkable results of the world economic crisis. Proffered remedies for the world's ills are being examined upon their merits to-day more than ever before and the Labour report will undoubtedly be paid the tribute of the close attention of modern economists. Essentially, of course, the solution means reconstruction along Socialist lines, by the creation of a National Investment Board and the amalgamation of the "Big Five" in a single banking corporation, under public ownership and control. A few years ago, such proposals would have been condemned out of hand; but those who are learning the lessons of 1929-33 will at least study what the authors have to say. Much of it consists of a plain statement of conditions commonly admitted to exist; it is in the remedies that controversy lies, although the activities of the National Government and of the Roosevelt Administration contain in themselves the indications that ultimately planned economy, which is the basis, is bound to come. The National Investment Board would constitute the general staff of the Government for planning and co-ordinating the mobilisation and allocation of that part of the national wealth destined for capital investment. It would not directly finance any activities, public or private, but it would see that investment monies were diverted into socially-useful channels, ending the system where money does not go where it is most needed, but merely expresses the investor's natural desire to make private profit as quickly and as largely as possible. If anyone thinks that the undertaking is impossible, he need only be referred to the example of the War, when, in a state of admitted national emergency, finance and investment were, in fact, drastically controlled by the Government. Even to-day, the Chancellor of the Exchequer exercises some control over finance when he wills it, by imposing restrictions on stock exchange activities, and foreign investments. In its scheme for control of banking, the Government would acquire the shares of the "Big Five" and therewith the right to nominate the directors, that the

NOTES OF THE DAY

AFTER REPEAL—WHAT?

State after State in America is recording its conviction in favour of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. The decision seems likely to be unanimous. In the circumstances, it is an odd thing the Americans seem to be too busy, or something, to give the slightest thought to the question of what policy is to be followed after the amendment has been discarded. Is the United States to go back to the old high-license regime that was common before 1920? Will they adopt the Ontario system, or a modification thereof? Is the Quebec system one which could be profitably copied? Will it be necessary to find an entirely new method of handling the problem? All of these questions become more important each week. So far as we can see, no-one has hardly bothered to give them a thought. It would be very foolish to rush through with the task of repealing the dry law without devoting time to a consideration of what sort of control is to be exercised afterward.

ON THE ROAD

The Return of motoring offences in Britain for last year has some interesting features. There were 3,068 convictions for rock- less or dangerous driving, and less than a fifth of the offenders had their licences suspended. The description "dangerous driving" means something far more serious at home than it means in Hongkong, where a charge of negligent driving would often be more suited to the facts. To bring the charge home it is necessary to prove the danger and that trifling formality is often dispensed with in local courts. In England as in Hongkong, provisions limiting the speed of certain vehicles seems to be treated with general contempt, for there were more than 31,000 convictions under it. And, since the average penalty inflicted was under two pounds, we must assume that the typical magistrate does not feel concerned to make it more respected. We often wonder whether 15 m.p.h. prominently displayed on commercial vehicles is intended to mean anything at all.

MR. GANDHI'S MISTAKE

In India the outlook seems perceptibly improving. But for Mr. Gandhi, the Poona meeting of the Congress would have called off civil disobedience. Already four-fifths of those who had been in prison for it a year ago have renounced it and come out. Mr. Gandhi, however, persuaded the meeting that instead of calling off unconditionally they should allow him to negotiate with the Viceroy for its removal on terms. Lord Willingdon very properly refused to make terms about the withdrawal of a policy which is "wholly unconstitutional" and with which "there can be no compromise." Mr. Gandhi, therefore, had to climb down and withdraw civil disobedience as a national policy while persisting in his intransigence by calling upon individual effort. His first sign of wisdom comes to-day with the announcement that he will not take steps likely to lead to re-imprisonment. This can only mean that individual disobedience will rapidly die as a doctrine.

EVENTS IN AMERICA

Events in America are exciting much attention and the "I told you so" school is likely to become active. It is already being pointed out that he has been very anxious over public works programmes and some other matters to disregard the experience of others and buy his own. He may buy it rather dear; but it would be a rash prophet who, viewing the many changes in Mr. Roosevelt's policy during the past few months, ventured any confident forecast of what he will be doing three months hence.

present managers and staff would continue to function under the new directorate, that the government would indicate the general lines of policy and would require the single Banking Corporation to cooperate with the Bank of England and the National Investment Board. The Report also contemplates the creation of a new credit institution, as recommended by the Macmillan Committee, to take over the frozen credits of the Joint Stock Banks. The object is to introduce greater efficiency and simplicity into Britain's financial institutions, to squeeze out the many middlemen and parasites and to mobilise to the full the country's financial resources. It makes excellent reading, if nothing else.

GILES PLAYFAIR FEARS THAT SOON WE SHALL HAVE NO ACTORS

THE other day I had the honour to speak to one of the most famous provincial theatre managers in England.

He owns and directs a spacious playhouse, which decorates a fashionable seaside resort. His tritonic celebrities of the past and of the present have been proud to bring their plays and their companies to him. "In two years time," he said, cheerfully, and helped himself to a whisky and soda, "every provincial theatre in this country will be closed."

The average Londoner, in so far as he thinks of the Theatre at all, thinks of it only in terms of the West End stage. He is inclined to imagine that the handful of actors and actresses who perform there-on are the sum representatives of the theatrical profession and that the British Theatre begins and ends within a three-mile radius of Piccadilly-circus. Those who write periodically of theatre slumps and of theatre booms, are writing what they know of the financial status of the London managers. In actual fact the Theatre is one of the most overcrowded of our national activities; and if, numerically speaking, the West End stage accounts for but a fraction of this national activity, so to my mind is it only fractionally important. But the Provincial Theatre is hard hit by the crisis. It is hard enough hit to stagger the wildest imagination of the most pessimistic theatrical commentator.

THREATENED WITH EXTINCTION

The Provincial Theatre is literally threatened with extinction.

And it is my belief that if the threat is fulfilled all that is genuine and all that is founded on worthy tradition in our theatre to-day must inevitably disappear.

When I speak of a Provincial tour I do not confine myself to a discussion of those companies, headed by a minor London star, which seek to entertain the public by the presentation of some popular straight play; I include the twice-nightly touring revues, concert parties, repertory companies, theatrical performances of every sort and description.

All are affected by the depression in like manner, from the show which is given at a large theatre in some manufacturing town to the show which is given in a village hall.

Every resident manager, the greatest and the humblest, will tell you the same story. The proprietor of a seaside pavilion recently informed me that he had been in the Coast business for 30 years and that his experience was worth nothing to him. Nowadays whatever attraction he cares to book he can never be sure of its appeal, and as often as not it turns out to be a complete failure. He has been compelled to dismiss most of his staff and has taken to dusting the auditorium himself.

ALL IS NOT WELL.

It would be idle to pretend that there are no exceptions to this general rule. There are some touring shows which have done well and are still doing well. There are some resident concert parties which have made a deal of money for their sponsors. But the sad fact remains that all is not well with our Provincial Theatre and there seems scant hope of improvement.

It would surprise many to realise that in the palmy days of the Theatre the successful touring actor was far more certain of a lucrative living than the West End star. It would surprise them more to realise that there are many famous touring actors who have refused and are ready to refuse again any offer, however tempting, to play on the London Stage.

And it is still true to say that in a profession where fortunes are seldom made, the richest actors are those who have bothered to build for themselves a provincial reputation.

But the main point is this. The successful touring actor knows how to act. He knows how to act because he has learned his craft in a hard school. A provincial audience expects a certain standard of histrionic competence. And a provincial audience is not slow to voice its displeasure if that standard of competence is not maintained.

HIGH LEVEL OF INCOMPETENCE.

Old actors will tell you, quite rightly, that the best stage training must begin on tour. Yesterday no actor or actress would dare face a London audience until he or she had been trained in this way. All our greatest men of the theatre have graduated from the Provinces.

To-day the discipline of Yesterday has been relaxed and the result is plain to see. Young men and women walk the London Stage without any previous experience and maintain a high level of incompetence. The perpetuation of the genuine theatrical craft is left to the touring companies and the rare few who still think it worth while to learn the job of acting are left to bring spasmodic hope to the London Stage.

From these remarks it is easy to understand the irreparable blow which would be struck at one of our oldest national pastimes if the Provincial Theatre were in fact to suffer extinction. There is grave danger of it. The reason for the danger is not hard to discover nor is the remedy far off. The average playgoer used to be content with what he called his money's worth. In these days of financial depression money is tight and hard to spare. Moreover, the average playgoer has grown used to the cheap luxuries of the cinema. He looks for more than his money's worth. It is for the enterprising touring managers to fulfil his expectations.

I seriously advise all those who are interested in the welfare of our Theatre to give to the Provinces their valuable attention; for if they do not all other effort, however brave and sincere, will be sadly wasted.

The Very Idea!

SWEEP AND LOW

By Eddio "So & So" Kelly

EVERYBODY'S doing it. You can buy tickets in the Chinese National Sweep, the Irish Sweep, Tattersall's, Police Sweeps, Street Sweeps, and many other sweeps too numerous and dirty to mention. Consequently, Edward Kelly announces the opening of an office for the sale of sweep tickets in Hongkong.

Invest your money in Kelly Sweeps Inc. Do you want half a million bucks? Would first prize in the Irish Sweep be of any use to you. Or would you like to invest ten cents in the office Football Sweep?

If so, Kelly is your man. All you have to do is send him the necessary cash (together with ullage, corkage and pillage) to win a prize. He will invest the money (less corkage, ullage and pillage) in any sweep you care to obtain tickets in. Saves worry and time.

If your ticket wins a prize, Edward Kelly will depart the very next day by the P. & O. liner for Europe; if it doesn't the applicant will be given the ticket, suitably framed and inscribed, as a souvenir.

Edward Kelly has always been lucky. Robert MacWhirter once gave him a gold watch and chain, a Parker fountain pen and five bucks in cash.

Naturally, when MacWhirter started to get a bit sore, Kelly had to return the five bucks and the gold watch, but he managed to blame someone else for the loss of the fountain pen.

Kelly has also been very lucky in other respects. He once got a silver-plated spittoon from the Hongkong Hotel, a set of teapoons from the Exchange Restaurant, and has several times managed to evade the boy with the "chit book" at the Peninsula.

You're bound to be lucky if you invest your lottery cash with Kelly Inc. You can't go wrong, especially if you're a man.

Kelly has had years of practice with barrels. Why not share in his luck. Let him buy your next lottery ticket, and if it wins a prize and you can get anything out of him, you'll know what luck is.

These results speak for themselves. In the last Chinese National Sweep, a ticket obtained by Kelly won only 10,121 off the first prize. In the last two Irish Sweeps Kelly has just missed (winning £2,000,000).

SEND YOUR MONEY NOW. NO QUESTIONS ASKED.

ROBBERY

"Good morning, sister. How is the patient brought in on that emergency case last night doing this morning?"

"He had an uncomfortable night, but is much improved to-day, doctor."

"He sure was brought here in a serious condition. The policeman said he found him in the middle of Der Voeux Road wandering around in a dazed condition. Poor fellow, he must have been in a terrible brawl of some kind. Has he told anyone what happened yet? he wasn't able to last night?"

"Why, yes, doctor. He says he was walking across the road and that he's near-sighted and that—"

"Hm, hm, hm, I see; probably stepped right in front of an motor-car and didn't see it coming. Too bad, too bad; that's just what—"

"No, doctor, that isn't it. He hailed a car, it stopped, he got in, and then—"

"No, doctor, it turned out to be a public car."

GOOD HEAVENS

Every woman we fall in love with has either an obnoxious husband or a passionate desire for matrimony.

We want to die and go to heaven. We shall enjoy heaven.

Every woman there will be beautiful and exquisite. We can fancy ourselves chasing them through the soft, grey clouds, their pink heels pattering among the stars, their glorious eyes flashing an invitation to us.

There will be no double chins in heaven, neither will a shiny nose destroy romance.

How delightful it will be, for one can fall in love several times a day, and not have to be careful what one says, for in heaven there shall be no marriage, not giving in marriage.

"It's funny they're not home, because I wrote that we were driving down for a visit."

HOCKEY SEASON APPROACHES: SOME CLUB PROSPECTS

YORKSHIRE CRICKET IN THE OLDEN DAYS

By "HISTORICUS"

FURTHER MATCHES WITH SURREY.

The first of the 1872 matches (played at Bramall Lane on June 17, 18 and 19), was a very exciting one ending as it did in a victory for Surrey by 18 runs. Surrey's first innings realised 147 (Jupp 11, R. Humphrey 45, Pooley 30 and Street 21 not out). Yorkshire tried five bowlers, and of these, the most successful were Lockwood with 3 wickets for 32 runs, Bodenworth with 2 for 35 and Hill with 2 for 38.

Yorkshire's first innings total (152) exceeded that of Surrey by 5 runs, mainly due to Ephraim Lockwood 64 (not out) and Allen Hill 30—they being the only "double-figure" batsmen. Surrey, like Yorkshire, utilised the services of five bowlers, of whom the best were Southerton with 5 wickets for 72 and Marten with 4 for 44.

Surrey's second venture brought them 106 (R. Humphrey 34, W. T. Palmer 23 and Pooley 16). Yorkshire again had five bowlers, and of these West obtained 6 wickets for 27 runs, Brown 2 for 17 and Hill and Lockwood 1 each for 19 and 21 respectively.

With 102 to get to win, Yorkshire stood a good chance of being successful till Ephraim Lockwood put his leg in front of a straight one from Strachan (he was probably endeavouring to induce in one of his favourite strokes a cut of the middle stump) and received marching orders with his score at 30—Andrew Greenwood and Joseph Rowbotham having assisted him with scores of 13 and 17 respectively. Thereafter, it was "all plain sailing" for Surrey, as Southerton, treating the remaining batsmen as "rabbits", confined the Yorkshire total to 85, and thus secured the victory for Surrey by 18 runs. Southerton's Analysis showed 7 wickets for 34 runs, while Strachan took 2 for 38.

The return match took place at Kennington Oval on August 1, 2, and 3. Surrey, having won the toss, led off with 184 (T. Humphrey 16, R. Humphrey 70, Pooley 20, Mr. J. C. Chaney 20, Mr. C. F. Camberley 20 and A. Freeman 14). Yorkshire again had five bowlers. Of these, Emmett with 4 wickets for 83 runs, Hill with 3 for 26 and Lockwood with 3 for 44 were the successful ones.

Yorkshire opened their first innings with H. Kaye and C. Halliley who had scored 10 between them, when Kaye was run out with his score at 8. Ephraim Lockwood then came in and stopped in for three hours, scoring 121—a faultless innings—while a more wicket fell namely those of Kaye 33, Andrew Greenwood 6, Joseph Rowbotham 24, Tom Emmett 39.

Iddison 11, West 31, George Pinder (the famous wicket-keeper) 42 (not out), and Allen Hill 16 carried on the good work of their predecessors, so that the Yorkshire innings did not close until 345 had been scored off the five Surrey bowlers. Rout took 4 wickets for 121 runs, Street 3 for 95 and Marten 2 for 67.

Surrey then went in for the second time. They commenced well—Jupp 64 and R. Humphrey 70, putting on 110 before the first wicket (Humphrey's) fell. They were, however, very poorly supported—only Mr. F. H. Boulton (16) the remaining batsmen reaching "double-figures"—and when the last wicket fell, the total for that innings had only been carried to 172—leaving Yorkshire with but 22 to obtain to win—while they scored without loss, Pinder 15 (not out) and Hill 8 (not out). In Surrey's second innings, the best of the Yorkshire bowlers (five in number) were Emmett with 4 wickets for 66 runs, and Hill with 4 for 47. In the match, Hill captured 7 wickets (all clean bowled) for 73 runs.

In 1873, two matches took place, the first being played at Bramall Lane on June 16 and 17. Surrey batted first, and finding Hill and Emmett in good form, could only put together 79 (Jupp 12, Pooley 10 and A. Freeman 11 not out)—Hill capturing 4 wickets for 32 runs and Emmett 6 for 38.

Yorkshire in their first innings, fared even worse than Surrey, scoring only 54 (Andrew Greenwood 22 and Emmett 11)—Southern taking 6 wickets for 24 and Street 4 for 30. In their second innings, Surrey made 84 (A. Freeman 21, Bristol 13 (not out) and Southern 13)—Hill and Emmett capturing 4 wickets for 23 runs and 6 for 46 respectively.

The task of making 110 runs to win was treated light-heartedly by the "Tykes" who won by 8 wickets with a score of 113 (Greenwood making 8, Emmett 41 and Lockwood and A. F. Smith 30 and 25—each not out respectively).

Hill and Emmett bowled unchanged throughout the match—Hill's figures being 8 wickets for 55 and Emmett's 12 for 84.

The second match took place at Kennington Oval on August 11, 12 and 13. Yorkshire batted first, scored 258 (Andrew Greenwood 88, A. F. Smith 11, Ephraim Lockwood 21, Joseph Rowbotham 118, John Thewlis 50 and Allen Hill 15)—Southern taking 5 wickets for 118 runs and Street 2 for 82.

Surrey in response could score no more than 131 (Jupp 23, R. Humphrey 17, Mr. N. Morris 22, Mr. F. H. Boulton 28, A. Freeman 10 and A. Chandler 10).

Lockwood took 4 wickets for 20; Hill 3 for 54 and Emmett 1 for 37.

NEEDLE BOWLS MATCH AT CRAIGENGOWER

SCHMELING-PAOLINO BOUT POSTPONED.

Amsterdam, Sept. 6. The fight between the former world-champion, the German heavyweight Max Schmeling, and the Basque woodchopper Paolino, which was scheduled to take place here some time next month, was cancelled to-day as the Mayor of Amsterdam refuses to lift the ban on boxing, decreed for this city about two years ago.

The promoters of the fight, it is stated in this connexion, now intend to stage the meeting between the two boxers in May next in some other Dutch city, most probably Rotterdam.

SPORTS AT Y.M.C.A.

EXTENSION THIS WINTER

INTEREST SHOWN BY MEMBERS

Sports and pastimes at the European Y.M.C.A., this winter are going to be made unusually attractive, judged by the many suggestions outlined at the members' meeting held last night.

Improvements are to be made to the hard tennis court at the rear of the building, and greater efforts are to be made to popularise squash rackets.

Indoor recreations are to be extended. An effort is to be made to play badminton in the West Lounge, an inter-floor billiards tournament is suggested as well as matches with the Services, and Mr. E. F. Selk, the Sports Secretary, is hoping to introduce parallel bars and other forms of physical training.

Keeness was also displayed by the members in the furtherance of the many other branches of Y.M.C.A. winter activity and the season promises to be a big success.

BOY TENNIS PRODIGY IN AUSTRALIA

Uses Double Grip for Both Backhand and Forehand Strokes

Rockhampton, Queensland. Among those who have qualified for the men's B. Grade Tennis championship of Central Queensland is a 13-year-old boy, Walter Jackson, believed to be the only player in Australia to use a double grip for both forehand and backhand.

Two championships have already gone to his credit, including the men's C. grade championship. Jackson started playing when he was 11, and his grip seemed to come naturally, and he is solely self-taught.

A move is afoot to send him to Brisbane for the State primary school championships.

Jackson is also a promising cricketer, being opening batsman with Dr. Barrett, of the Blair Athol representative XI.

A YOUNG SPORTSMAN.

The young son of Capt. Walker, master of the Haining, and of Mrs. Walker of Kowloon, is making a name for himself in England where he is a student at the University School. Recently he was a member of the school's four which won the Reynolds Shield for three years in succession.

Another member of the same team was the son of Mr. Russell Bassett, formerly very well-known in Shanghai, and now in retirement in Southport.

TITLE AT STAKE

CRAIGENGOWER SHOULD WIN

K.B.G.C. VERY INTERESTED

Hongkong's unusually interesting and exciting lawn bowls league season has now reached the final stage.

To-morrow, the last match of the schedule in the second division will be played and on its result depends the championship.

Craigengower and Civil Service are the contestants, and in order to make certain of retaining the title, Craigengower must win.

Civil Service have no direct interest in the leadership, but should they beat Craigengower it will enable the Kowloon Bowling Green to claim a deciding match with the present champions.

Judged by current form, plus the fact that the match is on the C.C.C. green, to-morrow's game looks a fairly safe thing for the "Craig". True last week they were completely outplayed by the Bowling Green; but then Civil Service also lost to the Police. It is unlikely that Craigengower will make the same mistake two weeks running.

This week's rains have done the green an enormous amount of good and it promises to be in splendid condition to-morrow. The probable teams are:

CRAIGENGOWER.

G. Duncan, F.K. Modi, W. Gill and H.V. Pearce (skip). D.K. Khanna, M.J. Medina, Y. Abbas, and A.A. Razack (skip). C.E. Summons, H. Milton, W. Ward and W.V. Field.

CIVIL SERVICE.

J. Champelovier, L.R. Whant, J.F. McGowan, and H. Westlake (skip). J. Purvis, J. Fitzgerald, R.R. Davis, and R.R. Wood (skip). S. Eccleshall, L. Collyer, L. Luck, and H.E. Strange (skip).

THE INTERPORT

FULL PROGRAMME FOR SHANGHAI

CONTINUOUS PLAY FOR FORTNIGHT

An elaborate programme has been arranged for the Shanghai visitors, who will have a fortnight's bowling in the Colony. On the arrival of the team the players will be met by officials of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association and will be conducted to the Peninsula Hotel, where they will stay during their visit.

The team is expected to arrive early on Friday and in the afternoon it has been arranged that they be given a roll-up practice on the Police green, the Police R.C. to provide the opposition.

The first Interport match will take place on Saturday, October 7, a week after their arrival, the second on October 10 which is a public holiday and the final on Saturday October 14. However, should the weather forecast indicate that Saturday October 14 will be wet then the final game will be brought forward to Thursday as the Shanghai team will sail on Sunday October 15.

FULL PROGRAMME.

The full programme arranged by the committee last evening is as follows: Friday, Sept. 29 v. Police R.C., 8.30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 30 v. Kowloon B.G.C., 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 1 v. Yacht Club, 8.30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 2 v. Talkoo R.C., 8.30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 3 v. VICTORIA (Civil Service green), 8.30 p.m. Reference: A. O. Brown. Wednesday, Oct. 4 v. Club de Recreio, 8.30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 5 v. KOWLOON (Kowloon B.G.C. green), 8.30 p.m. Reference: R. P. Phillips. Saturday, Oct. 6, FIRST INTER-PORT (Continued on Page 7).

VIRILITY OF THE NEW ASSOCIATION

MAMAK HOCKEY: ELIMINATION OF BICKERING ESSENTIAL

ALL REFEREES TO BE FULLY QUALIFIED

By "Bully-OG"

Hockey will soon be in full swing and the enthusiasm which has reigned at the trial and practice matches during the past two or three weeks augurs well for a most successful season. It is indeed gratifying to note the improved form many of the teams have shown to date.

The game will this year come under the jurisdiction of the newly-formed Hongkong Hockey Association. Although only just over two months old it has already justified its existence. Rules have been formulated with the utmost care and a Hockey Umpires Board has been elected whose chief function will be to see that the game is governed only by those fully qualified. Each would-be Umpire is to be subjected to an examination before he is eligible to take control of any match, whether tournament or friendly.

THE MAMAK LEAGUE.

The Mamak Tournament will again be the centre of most interest and it is to be hoped that the bickering and ill-feeling which crept in at the end of last year will not occur. The main trouble was that there were too many individuals who took it upon themselves to give instructions. Decisions were made by one person holding an official position without the authority of the Executive and chaos naturally resulted. If the M.H.T. is to continue to enjoy its popularity of the past this must be eliminated. Clubs should take the precaution to ascertain whether any instructions given them are given with the confirmation of the Executive.

The absentees this year will be the Incognitos, R.A.S.C., 1st H.K.S. Battery, Tamar, 20th Battery, 24th Battery, and the R.A.M.C. Replies have not yet been received from the Police, Whistart, Veteran, Phoenix, and Parthian, and newcomers are the Mule Corps and the United Hockey Club, the latter being composed of old boys from the Diocesan Boys' School.

The absence of the Incognitos and the 1st H.K.S. Brigade enhances the chances of the Radio performing the "hat-trick". Their only challengers appear to be St. Andrew's who finished third in the table last season. The Radio have the advantage, however, of being in perfect fettle when the competition commences as they have been practicing throughout the summer months.

AMONG THE TEAMS

LIKELY MAMAK CHAMPIONS

During the next two or three weeks I propose running through the prospects of the teams in the Colony, with a few details as to the Radio. It would not surprise me at all to see the Radio Sports Club complete the "hat-trick" in the Mamak Tournament this year. During the past two seasons they can rightly claim to have fielded one of the strongest combinations in the Colony. They won the Mamak trophy in the first year of its offering, and although the shield was withdrawn last season following the controversy regarding the English Hockey Association and prize competitions, the Radio retained the Championship.

This year they are again putting out a formidable side, and with the non-entry of the Incognitos have very little opposition. Their closest rivals would appear to be St. Andrew's who intend making a strong bid for the Championship honours.

PERSONNEL COMMENTS.

The Radio have been constantly at practice during the summer months and will thus start the season on tip-top form. Their team consists of practically the same players as last year. In goal will be Man Singh who did some starward defending last year. The practice games during the summer have not only added to his past experience and great things are expected of him. Parduman Singh has a claim to being one of the best right full-backs in the game locally. He shows excellent ball control and clearing ability. J. S. Grewal on the left rolls a great deal on first-time hitting. This is rather a dangerous play, but constant practice has eradicated inaccuracy to a great extent.

STRONG FORWARDS.

Jagmeet Singh will be in his customary position at right-half while on the other side will be Mohinder Singh. The latter is inclined to be erratic and would do well to use his head a little more. M. H. Hassan will again take up the centre position in the intermediate line. He has had plenty of past experience which he uses to advantage in feeding his forwards.

Prem Singh, a new comer to the Club, will take up the position on the right wing this season vice Surin Singh. Surin Singh is a good all round player and has in the past represented the Radio between the sticks. His successor is reliable and centres well. Gurbachan Singh will be in his usual position at right inner. His deadly shooting earned him a great reputation as leading goal getter last year. He will be a force to be reckoned with again this season. He is fast and displays stick-work which is a treat to watch. Occasionally he moves into the pivotal position. Kalwant Singh will be playing at left inner.

NEW BLOOD FOR K.I.T.C.

WINTER WILL SEE IMPROVED TEAM

personnel. The K.I.T.C. has again entered a team in the Mamak Tournament and, is putting a much improved eleven in the field this year. Many of their players were almost new to the game last season, but they received sufficient experience to enable them to give a good account of themselves during the coming season.

Four new players will be included in their ranks, K. Noronha, A. L. Souza, H. Singh and Waryam Singh. The first two will constitute the left flank, at left-wing and left-inner respectively, and although at present out of practice should considerably strengthen the Indians' team.

H. Singh has recently returned from long leave in India. Whilst away he contracted an illness from which he has not fully yet recovered but by the time the Mamak tournament commences I hope to see him well and doing his bit at right-inner. Waryam Singh has this year been given the key position, and in the recent practice and friendly games has justified his inclusion.

K. Hussain, who played right-wing last year has been transferred to left-half, and his tackling combined with agility and speed make him a valuable half. Naidu, the Club's vice-captain, and Karnail Singh, in the rear line, are playing on the top of their form. Ahmad Khan, the Club's contra-forward, goes on short leave in November and it will be a problem to find a player of equal ability to take his place. There are many reserves available but they are unfortunately not quite up to tournament standard. These should be given every opportunity in friendly matches.

"SPORTING PARSON" OF THE BALKANS

Belgrade. The "Sporting Parson" of the Balkans is Josip Ljht of Lgrada, on the Drava River.

He has just become qualified as a professional referee. This enables him to add to his small salary as a priest by refereeing at football matches, most of which take place in Yugo Slavia on Sunday. The "Sporting Parson" maintains that not only does this add to his income, but it also enables him to keep in touch with the young men and with the requirements of modern times.

HOLE-IN-ONE ON 312-YARD 'BLIND' HOLE.

Washington. W. D. McGraw of this city broke into the "hole-in-one" ranks of goldfom with a bang. He made the longest "ace" recorded in many years around the national capital when his ball rolled into the cup on the 312 yards 13th hole at Rock Creek park.

The hole is a dog-leg and McGraw took his brassie and hit the ball a mighty sock around the corner. He and three golfers playing with him found it in the cup.

M.C.C.'S INDIA TOUR

A MYSTERIOUS CABLE

INDIA'S LIKELY PLAYERS

Calcutta, Aug. 23.

The mystery of the reported hoax on the M.C.C. by someone who signed a telegram to the M.C.C. with the name of the President of the Cricket Board of Control, suggesting a revision of the team, has deepened.

Mr. R. E. Grant Govan, the President of the Board of Control, whose name was penned to the cable, made the following statement this afternoon:

"Possibly some cable unknown to me has been sent to the M.C.C., but there is no mystery about the fact I cabled the M.C.C. recently expressing the hope that the injury to Jardine's knee would prevent him from coming out to captain the side. I also said how disappointed I was at the inability of R. E. S. Wyatt, Sutcliffe, Hammond, Ames, and Paynter to accept the invitation. And finally, I mentioned the names of certain players whom I said India would be very pleased to have the opportunity of seeing in action."

SUGGESTED TEST PLAYERS.

Bombay, Aug. 23. Although trial matches are to be held before the first test, and although it is a long way off, not being until December 15th, at Bombay, the team will, according to a forecast from a most competent source, be selected from the following thirteen players:

C. K. Naidu (India), S. Wazir Ali (Bhopal), Amar Singh (Jamnagar), Jeomani Naomani (Karachi), Mahomed Nissar (Lahore), J. G. Navle (Gwalior), S. Nazir Ali (Patiala), S. H. M. Colah (Bombay), V.M. Merchant (Bombay), Champak Mehta (Bombay), Shahnabuddin (United Provinces), Mushtaq Ali (Central India) Amarnath (Northern India).

Either the Maharajah of Patiala or the Maharaj Kumar of Vizianagaram will captain the side.

Of these thirteen players Naidu, Wazir Ali, Amar Singh, Naomani, Nissar, Navle and Colah toured England with the All India team of 1932. Merchant and Mehta, two Hindus, were invited to accompany the All India team but both were unable to accept. Shahnabuddin and Mushtaq Ali are both bowlers, the latter a slow left-hander, has had a most successful season. Amarnath is a wicketkeeper.

ROUS PLATE RUN.

Grasmere Wins Sprint At Doncaster.

London, Sept. 14. The Rous Plate was run in fine weather at Doncaster to-day, over a six furlong course. The results are: Grasmere 1 Woodhouse 2 Baynton 3 The odds were 4/1 Grasmere; 8/11 Woodhouse; 8/1 Baynton. The winner was ridden by half length and the second horse led its nearest rival by only a short head. Eight ran.—Reuter.

Tek's

does it!

If Tek's brush head were twice as long, it couldn't do your teeth and gums half as much good. Tek is exactly fitted for its work. It gets its head in even at the most difficult angles—measures its entire tuft of bristles fully and firmly against the inner surface of the upper and lower teeth. Tek reaches right back, cleans right round—treating the gums with a steady course of gentle massage—keeping them firm and healthy and young. Got used to Tek and you'll use no other. Sold surgically clean in sealed carton. See that the carton is unbroken. Six colours. Hard or medium, also extra hard (unbleached).

TOO LATE IN YEAR

MOLLISON MAY NOT FLY TO ALEPPO

New York, Sept. 14.

Amy Mollison left for Toronto

to-day to supervise the preparation of the plane in which she and her husband planned to break the world's long distance record.

Interviewed before her departure, she said it was not finally settled that they should make their projected flight from Toronto to Aleppo this year.

Personally, she thought the latest advisable date was past, and that there was now danger of ice forming on the wings of the plane.
Everything depended on "Jim"
she added.—Reuter.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

A player's real ability at the bridge table should be judged on
how strong a defence he can put
up. It is surprising the number of players who can handle the dummy well but who fail miserably on defence.

The following defensive play is not extremely difficult, and I was pleased to note, in the men's pair game at the National Championship tournament of the American Bridge League at Asbury Park, N. J., that few pairs failed to put up the proper defence.

The Bidding

South and West both passed and North opened the bidding with one spade. East overcalled with two hearts. South bid two spades—
this overcall of two spades is a highly constructive bid. North responded with two no trump and
South went to four spades.

The Play

East's opening lead was the fourth best club which was won in dummy with the ace. A small spade was won with declarer's ace
and another spade returned and
won in dummy with the king. The king of clubs was cashed and the declarer then trumped the four of

AA-Q-7-4

KK-5-4

AA-9-4-3

8-5

6-3-2 NORTH
4-3-2 WEST
K-10-8 EAST
J-9-6 Dealer
6-3 SOUTH
K-10-9-8
7-6
Q-7-5-2
A-K-4

clubs. He next played the ace of diamonds and here is where East
had an opportunity of making a
good defensive play.

If he plays a small diamond the
declarer will lead another diamond
and let him hold the next trick
with the jack, and then all he can do is to cash his ace of hearts and
the declarer's contract is made.
However, if West plays the jack of diamonds on the declarer's ace,
the declarer cannot help but lose
two diamonds and two hearts as West is going to be in on a diamond and can lead through his king of hearts.

WICKING & CO. WIN CLAIM
AND COUNTER CLAIM

Choy Kwang-kwai, merchant, of
49, Peel Street, sued Harry Wicking
& Co., of Prince's Building, for $404.95 brokerage at the Supreme Court yesterday.

Defendants counter-claimed for $100 collected by plaintiff without authority and $98.29 in respect of
over-paid commission.

Plaintiff admitted the first counter-
claim and reduced his claim
accordingly.

Mr. G. Lowe who appeared for Choy Kwang-kwai stated that the money was due to his client for engineering certain contracts between
the defendant and other firms.

A Chinese commission broker gave
evidence for plaintiff.

For the defence Mr. Harry Owen
Hughes of the defendant company
testified that the practice in brokerage was not to pay commission until
the transaction was completed. In this case the goods were undeliver-
ed.

Judgment was given for defendant,
who was allowed costs.

Mr. H. J. Armstrong, of Messrs.
Deacons, represented plaintiffs.

WORLD CRISIS

A WAY OUT

By FREDERICK COPE, A.M.I.E.E.

Mr. Cope's striking articles on the world economic crisis
which were recently published in the Hongkong Telegraph
are now available in pamphlet form.

One of the features, repaying study, is the close similarity
between the plan of reform suggested by this local writer,
and certain aspects of the Roosevelt recovery programme.
The author's ideas are naturally far too advanced for active promotion at the present time, but they are particularly interesting in view of the fact that President Roosevelt, in striking out on a path of his own, has travelled in the same direction.

The pamphlet is one of forty-four pages and can be

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES

There was an element of doubt in the mind of that lovely Lella Farrar. Would "The Man from Toronto" marry her just for the sake of the money that would accrue from such a marriage? Or would he, if she assumed for the time being another identity, let the money go and wed her for herself alone? After all, a woman enjoys a certain prerogative and it occurs to Jessie Matthews (who is Lella) that there must be some certain way of testing the Colonial gentleman's fidelity.

Fergus Wimbush had come from Canada to England, drawn thither by the quaint will of Simon Hartopp. That will bequeathed a large sum jointly to him and Lella, on condition that they made a match of it. A provoking will, to be sure, but half a million's half a million! In this merry film version of Douglas Murray's stage play, we are treated to a piquant comedy of cross-purposes. Here is Lella, his fellow-legatee, posing as a maid-servant, determined to ascertain if, as mere "Polly Perkins," she can induce him to propose, the legacy notwithstanding. And here, on the other hand, is the unsuspecting Colonial "falling for the pretty 'slavery'" and half inclined to turn down the legacy and carry Polly off to Canada. But fate intervenes and the Canadian is furious at the deception, unable to forgive Lella's thorough-going leg-pulling. How it all ends, and how an attack of mumps at the village pageant precipitates the disclosure, is part of a rollicking story at the King's that is certain to be thoroughly enjoyed.

"King of the Jungle"

Ruster Crabbe makes his screen debut in the role of the Lion Man in "King of the Jungle," animal thriller opening to-day at the Queen's Theatre.

Crabbe is cast as a youth, who, orphaned in the African jungle at an early age, grows up with a pack of roaming lions and ultimately becomes their leader. Captured while trying to rescue one of the pack who is trapped, he is brought to the United States where he becomes head trainer in a circus.

The film reaches its climax when the hysterical animals break loose from their cages to roam through the streets of a large city, leaving a trail of death and destruction.

"The Great Jasper"

The Central Theatre is the scene of Dix's new triumph. "The Great Jasper" is a translation to the screen, literally and in spirit, of Fulton Oursler's novel of the same name. And Jasper is the most beguiling lover who ever begged pardon in advance of his conquest.

The story is a stirring, heart-throbbing one leavened with rather delicious natural humour. Jasper is ordered to leave his town when his boss and benefactor discovers that Jasper and not himself is the father of his wife's son.

Jasper goes to Atlantic City, where he thinks a man ought to find plenty of fun. Thanks to the impression he makes on an old and homely fortune-teller, he becomes a famous seer "For Women Only." As his fortune and his affairs progress he is happy but for the stubbornness of Jenny, his wife, in refusing to live with him and their boy.

Years pass and Jasper and Jenny are almost united again through mutual love for the boy, now graduated from college and engaged to a beautiful girl.

A gripping climax arises when Jenny on the verge of forgiving Jasper, discovers the illegitimate son, and that son wrecks the happiness of the other boy by stealing his sweetheart.

Jasper finds himself in the peculiar position of being aligned, through his love for his own flesh and blood, against the very things he had always tolerated with a smile and a wink.

Dix is splendidly supported, Vera Engels, a new German importation, having a fresh young beauty that is charming. Florence Eldridge, Edna May Oliver, Bruce Cabot and Betty Furness acquit themselves well in important roles.

"Soldiers of the King"

Cleely Courtneidge performs an extremely funny acrobatic dancing act in "Soldiers of the King."

It comes about in this way. Miss Courtneidge is a member of a troupe called "The Marvellous." There is a Gala Performance, but the charming adagio dancer (played by Dorothy Dickson's daughter) is missing, and the comic Cleely steps in as her understudy.

In this picture Miss Courtneidge is seen both as the conscientious trouper and as her mother.

Another member of the troupe is Edward Everett Horton, the well-known Hollywood comedian, and Anthony Bushell is the soldier hero.

Maurice Elvey directed "Soldiers of the King" at Islington.

"Soldiers of the King" is coming next Sunday to the King's Theatre. It sweeps gaily along providing irresponsible entertainment in which sentiment, song, patriotism, romance and clowning are mixed by hands well versed in the art of popular showmanship.

AUTOMOBILE ASSN.

FEDERATION AGREEMENT PUBLISHED

A federation agreement between the Hongkong Automobile Association and the Automobile Association of Great Britain and Ireland has now been entered into. As explained in the appended copy, the term "federated" implies that the two bodies are independent, but bound by a resolution to further each other's interests and objects in all ways possible.

The agreement reads:

The Automobile Association of Great Britain (A.A.) and the Hongkong Automobile Association (H.K.A.A.) agree as follows:

1. The H.K.A.A. is entitled to adopt a modified form of the A.A. badge. Such modification and the wording to be used upon the badge to be mutually agreed.

2. The A.A. to accept individual members of the H.K.A.A. temporarily visiting Great Britain and Ireland for a subscription of £1.1s. to cover 12 months' membership and to provide full membership benefits—the subscription for motor-cyclists to be 10s. 6d., entrance fee in both cases being waived.

3. The member of the H.K.A.A. may use his H.K.A.A. badge on British roads only on condition that the aforementioned subscription has been paid.

4. A member of the H.K.A.A. will, on joining the A.A., be supplied with membership card, telephone service key, handbook and other regular matter.

5. If convenient to all concerned, the H.K.A.A. will collect and remit subscriptions in advance to the London Head Office in a manner and at intervals to be arranged.

When On Visit.

6. Members of the A.A. permanently resident overseas are entitled to retain their membership at an annual superannuation subscription of 10s. 6d. Such members are entitled, when visiting Great Britain and Ireland temporarily, to full membership benefits for a period not exceeding six months in the membership year then current. If a visit exceeds six months, the balance of the ordinary £2. 2s. subscription for a car member and £1. 1s. for a small car or motor-cycle member is payable. This arrangement will apply to an overseas member of the A.A. resident in Hongkong, who is not also a member of the H.K.A.A. An overseas member of the A.A. resident in Hongkong, who is also a member of the H.K.A.A. will be entitled, as an A.A. member to six months full benefits in Great Britain and Ireland without payment of a further subscription, but if the temporary visit exceeds six months, a further 10s. 6d. only will be required, representing the special £1. 1s. subscription rate available to members of the H.K.A.A.

7. In the case of a member of the H.K.A.A. who moves permanently to Great Britain or Ireland and wishes to support the A.A., the ordinary rates of subscription would apply, the entrance fee being waived. In such cases.

(a) Unless membership of the H.K.A.A. is retained, the H.K.A.A. badge would not be valid in Great Britain or Ireland and would be withdrawn. On being notified that the H.K.A.A. badge has been withdrawn, the A.A. will supply its own

POLICE PROBLEM.

PEKING AGITATION OVER DIRECTOR'S POST

Peking, Sept. 14.
The agitation for the reinstatement of Pao Yu-lin as Director of Public Safety continues. This morning various local organizations, which have been most active in the campaign for his retention, inaugurated a committee and decided to telegraph to Nanking, urging the Government to reconsider its decision.
In the meantime, Yu Chin-ho, the new Director of Public Safety, who is on sick leave, has had his leave extended two weeks by the Mayor, who has appointed Chu Ju-ling, the police chief in charge of the East City, as acting Director pending Yu's assumption of office.—Reuter.

badge free on payment of the ordinary A.A. subscription.

(b) Where H.K.A.A. membership is retained, the H.K.A.A. badge may be displayed in Great Britain or Ireland in addition to the A.A. badge, which latter will be obtainable at the usual fee on payment of the ordinary A.A. subscription.

The H.K.A.A. is entitled to publish the fact that it is federated with the A.A., the term "federated" implying that the H.K.A.A. are respectively independent, but bound by a resolve to further each other's interests and objects in all ways possible.

This Agreement to take effect on signature by both parties and remain in force until determined by either party giving to the other six months previous notice in writing.

CHINESE OFFICIAL ESCAPES INJURY

Nanking, Sept. 14.
Colonel Chen Wen-lin, Director of the Naval Aviation Bureau, who is making a round-the-country flight in the plane Kiangto, made a forced landing yesterday afternoon at 4 p.m. at Sanpao railway station, 30 li from Hsuehchow.

Although Colonel Chen and his mechanic were uninjured, the machine was damaged. The plane was transported by train to Hsuehchow, arriving there this morning. Colonel Chen has telegraphed to the Ministry of Navy to send mechanics to Hsuehchow to effect repairs.

Interviewed by pressmen, Colonel Chen Wen-lin declared he would continue his flight as soon as the machine is repaired.—Reuter.

KEEPS ARMPITS DRY, ODORLESS

Doctors and nurses endorse Nonspi, the safe, mild, efficient deodorant. To-day over a million women rely on Nonspi to prevent the embarrassment of unpleasant underarm odour and to save clothes from ruinous perspiration stains.

Nonspi is safe. It merely diverts the moisture which regularly accumulates under the arm to parts of the body where better evaporation takes place. There can be no harmful results.

Nonspi contains a special ingredient, not used in any other deodorant. This increases its safety and efficiency and prevents irritation of the tender underarm skin.

For applying Nonspi use cotton. Laboratory tests, conducted for over a year, prove cotton the most sanitary means of application yet devised.

YOUR CHILDREN

Understand A Growing Boy's Conduct

By Olive Roberts Barton

"Hello, Jimmy! Been a good boy to-day?"

It was dad's usual greeting. Jimmy only answered when he had been good. Now he just grunted and held his book closer to his face.

"What has he been doing, mother?"

"Oh, everything! Such a day as I've had with him! Look at his knee, will you?"

"What happened?"

"He cut it on a stone. He was in his bare feet and he knows I

The Film Stars Are Getting In Print

Jane Shaddock.

Prints are the coolest looking things you can wear in the summer. And prints, trimmed with simple, pure white lingerie touches, spell chic for the girl who wears them.

Janet Shaddock wore a red and white printed frock with a collar of white chiffon. The full sleeves fastened in a tight cuff just below her elbow. Jane attained the popular square shouldered effect by circular ruffles on each shoulder of her dress.

THE WORLD OF WOMEN

BUTTONS ON YOUR BELT

With linen so chic, and satin rapidly becoming ever so popular, a combination of the two makes one of the smartest ensembles of the season. A navy blue satin dress and a yellow linen jacket, with full shoulders, is an ideal summer tailor.

The buttons on the shoulders of the jacket and on the novelty belt add the required note of fantasy. The ensemble is topped with a yellow linen hat, banded in navy.

don't allow it."

"Well," blurted out Jimmy, "you said to wear those good stockings and I knew if I'd get a hole in them I'd get scolded."

"You needn't have gone with those boys."

"I asked you and you said 'yes.' I didn't know they were going down by the pond to hunt crabs. I left my shoes and stockings at Scrapy's just to save them."

"Yes—I suppose so! Well, that's not all. He left his wheel out in the yard. When I went down street it began to rain. It was out in all that downpour and now it will be rusty. I worked and saved to get him that bicycle and now he can't take care of it."

The Mother's Version

"I do take care of it. I cleaned it and oiled it yesterday. I wouldn't have left it there but when I came back from the store you said I was to call Tommy right away. So I ran in to the telephone and after that I forgot it."

"That's not all," went on his exasperated mother. "He lent Tommy one of the books out of his new set a month ago. I just missed it to-day and now Tommy's mother can't find it. The set is ruined."

"I'll turn up," Tommy always lends me books. This one's his I didn't know it would get lost."

"All right. You always have a million excuses. But you won't get up when you're called, you don't keep yourself clean, you don't do anything. You are just a bad boy."

"I'm ashamed of you, son," said his dad. "Sit up there and get off your neck. You're going to be a hunch-back some day. And stop frowning. You haven't anything to scowl about. Your mother I am the ones to be mad."

His parents are in the house now so you and I will have a whispered conversation about Jimmy.

The Urge For Activity

Do you think he was a bad boy? I don't.

In the first place his greatest crimes were thoughtlessness and perhaps some carelessness. Who of us is not both many times a day? In the second place, not only natural but rather decent motives prompted his seeming lapses in conduct. In the third place, he is a boy, a growing boy, with sudden impulses and a terrible urge for activity. In the fourth place, for every one thing he did wrong, there were probably a dozen he did right.

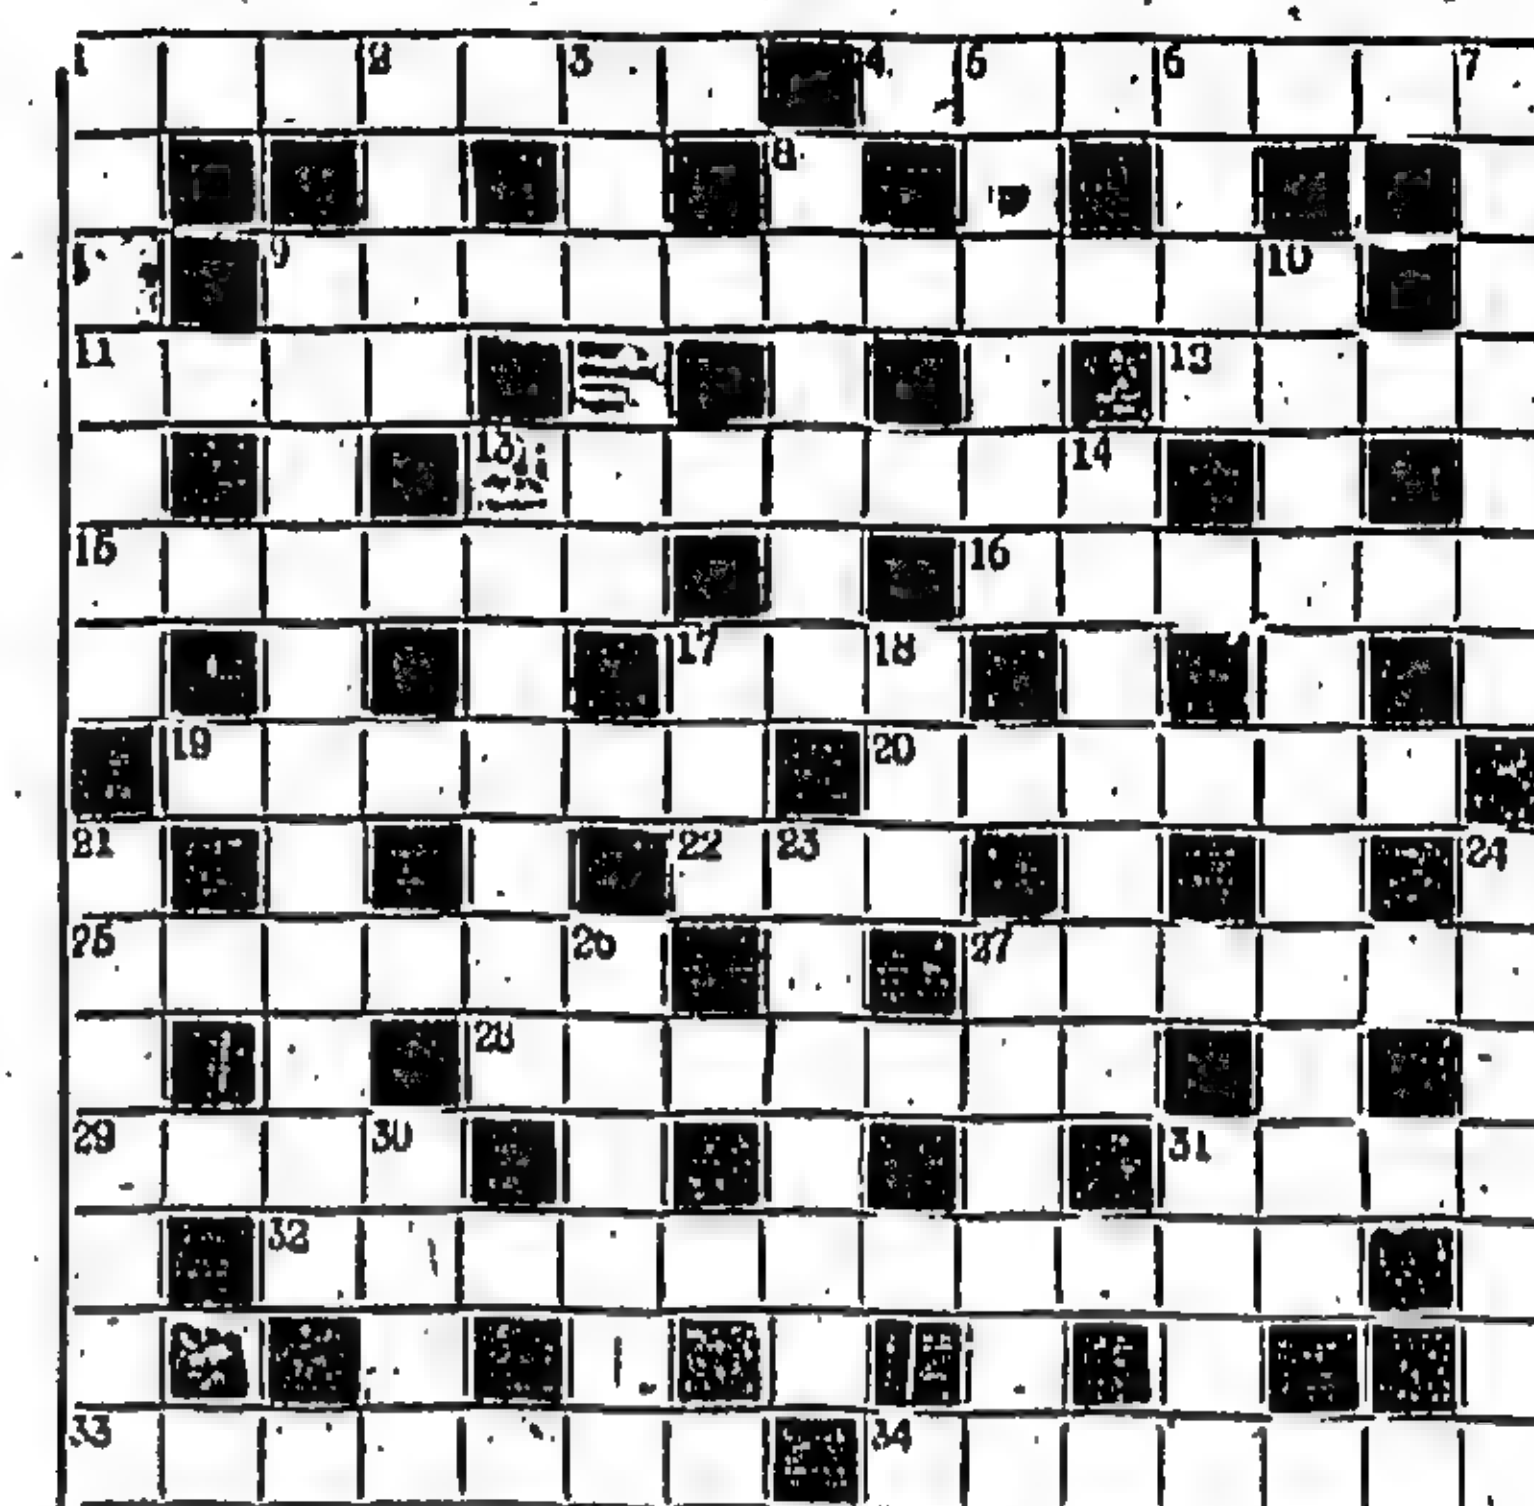

If his parents continue to be blind to his good points and to judge him too harshly, he will get a permanent scowl, not only on his face but on his very soul.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

CHAPTER XXII

The next few weeks were busy for Eve. Outstanding in importance was the opening of the new theatre which was to be a gala occasion in Lake City. Dick brought home several invitations for the opening night. Admittance at the first performance, he explained, was to be strictly invitational. The following evening the theatre would be open to the public. "There will be lots of offers to buy these invitations at a nice premium," Dick said; "but I would like to catch anyone selling him!"

He asked Eve to give one of the invitations to Mrs. Brooks, who had been continually considerate and thoughtful. Two others were for the teachers who lived on the floor above. There were several left and these Eve was to pass on to some of her friends at the store.

The newspapers had devoted much space to the impending event and Lake City in general looked forward to it. The morning of the opening Theron Reece telephoned Eve at her office.

"Just wondered if you could get me a couple of comps for the opening show to-night," he said. Eve told him she was sorry but she had nothing to do with distributing the invitations.

Arlene was going to the performance with Sam Holteridge who had taken her out twice since Freda's party. Eve helped Arlene select a new frock for the occasion. During the noon hour they slipped into the dress department and it was their fortune to have Freda show them the newest gowns.

"Just a minute!" Freda said suddenly. "I've an inspiration!" She brought into the fitting room a soft rose chiffon with myriads of tiny ruffles. Its low-cut neckline gave it a touch of sophistication. "It's the most romantic looking dress we've ever had here," Freda declared. "I telephoned one of our wealthiest patrons the minute it came in and she took it on my recommendation. It was lovely on her; she had the same dark colouring you have, Arlene. But the next day she returned it for some unexplained reason and I've been waiting for just the right person to wear it."

Arlene eyed the dress wistfully. "Even with my employee's percentage off," she said, "it will set me back terribly—but I can't resist it. I've never worn anything as lovely as this dress!" She stroked the soft ruffles gently. "I've never had places to wear such things," she went on, "but now that I have the dress I'll make occasions to wear it!"

That evening Eve sat in the brilliantly lighted theatre and looked happily about her. The ruby red mohair seats were rapidly filling with beautifully-dressed women accompanied by men in severe evening clothes. Down in the second row Dick had seated Mrs. Brooks and the teachers. Mrs. Brooks was wearing a black dress that had been carefully made over and embellished with the heavy gold and amethyst jewelry that had been a gift from her husband. The older of the teachers wore her "convertible" black net dress from which the sleeves had been detached for the occasion. Saturday afternoon the sleeves would be sewed back in place for the annual reunion of her normal school class. Miss McElhinney was charming in flowered yellow taffeta with tiny puffed sleeves and she apparently was much intrigued by a handsome young cellist who sat before her in the orchestra pit.

Dick had made a last minute check of the heating and lighting equipment and was now busy back stage. He would join Eve after the performance began.

He had reserved a box for their guests. Eve had invited Arlene and Sam, Marya and Ray. They made an attractive group—Arlene glowing in rose chiffon, Marya wearing forget-me-not blue satin, and Eve with her lustrous honey-coloured hair and pale gold lace dress. Eve wore one green orchid at her shoulder and her wrap was lined with green.

The heavy corse curtains parted, the lights went down and all eyes were turned toward the stage. First on the programme was a feature motion picture starring a popular actress. This was followed by a few vaudeville acts of especial merit.

Suddenly from behind a shimmering silver curtain stepped a famous vaudeville star in an ermine wrap. Her white gown was studded with brilliant, accentuating the blackness of her hair and eyes. Her dynamic songs charmed the audience, her sparkling wit captivated them.

Smiling and holding out her arms, she exclaimed, "This wonderful theatre—I must congratulate you upon having such a beautiful building in your city. It is the most beautiful house in which I have ever appeared. I hope (and here she smiled again), 'that you will appreciate it!'"

Eve, too, hoped that Lake City would appreciate it. She knew something of the tremendous cost that had gone into its construction and decoration. She was amazed at the thousands of dollars which had been spent to provide gorgeous curtains and drops for the stage. She knew that the rare vases and furniture in the lobby were immensely expensive and that the paintings on the walls were originals. The auditorium itself had been decorated in cerise and silver and black. Arlene declared that the powder room was "an interior decorator's dream come true," while Marya praised the artistic combination of woods and fabrics in the smoking rooms.

The next day, Mona Allen confided to Arlene that Theron Reece had invited her to the new theatre for the night when it opened to the public.

"I had another invitation, too, but I accepted Mr. Reece's because he asked me first," she added. Arlene smiled wisely and said nothing.

A few evenings later Dick took Eve, Arlene and Sam back stage during a performance.

"When I see what applause means to the actors," said Arlene, "I am ashamed to think I ever let the curtain go down after a good performance without showing my appreciation. Just see how hard they work to please us—and there is no other way we have of showing them they have succeeded!"

She was really contrite over her past indifference. A small blond girl wearing a very full chiffon dress entered the wings. She smiled at them and perched on a table nearby. Eve spoke cordially

to her. "I'm about to go on," the girl said. "I do a dance in this number."

"That's a lovely gown you are wearing," Arlene offered.

"Thanks. Do you like my wrap?" the dancer asked, unfolding a bundle of blue she carried under her arm. "You see, it's an evening party and I enter wearing this." The girl arose and wrapped herself gracefully in the metallic cloth. "My aunt made it," she added naively.

A few moments later they were to see her discard the wrap and in the course of her dance balance herself on one hand, the chiffon gown falling down about her in delicate petals, her slim young legs erect like the stamens of a flower.

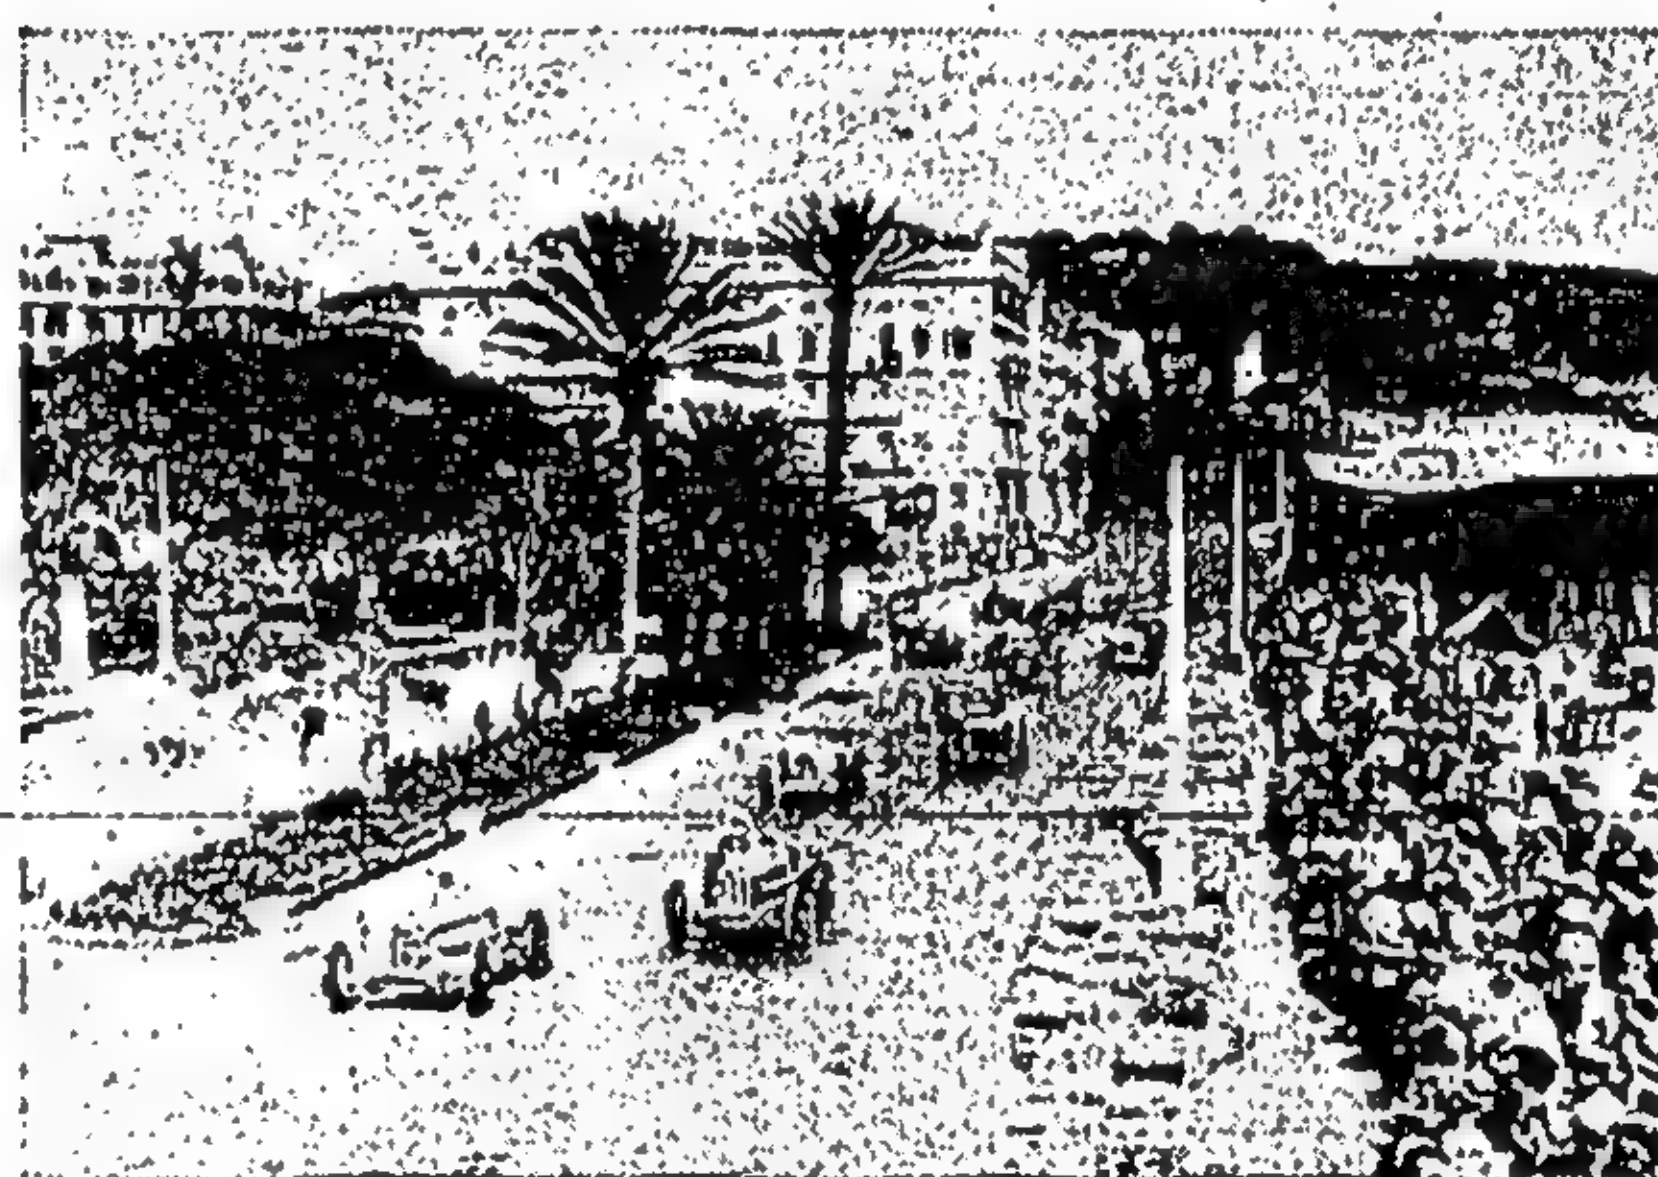

When she came off the stage again the little dancer, breathless, joined Dick's party to watch the remainder of the performance. Apparently she craved approbation. She frankly enjoyed Eve's praise and chattered gaily with her. Eve, slim and graceful herself, suddenly felt thick and clumsy in the presence of so much animation. The girl paid marked attention to Dick. "Aren't you afraid to let 'your heart' work in this line of temptation?" Arlene asked with mock horror.

"Oh, no! I'd trust Dick with Cleopatra herself," Eve answered. But in her heart she wondered if she had so permanent a hold on his affections.

JAPAN'S FUTURE

TIMES APPRECIATES
MANCHURIA SCHEME

London, Sept. 14. Appreciation of Japan's stabilizing influence in Manchukuo is evident in the London Times editorial on Manchurian affairs to-day, which comes as comment following the appearance of three articles from a special correspondent in that field.

The paper remarks that the complete suppression of banditry

and hardly be expected in this generation, but it is likely that the Japanese and their local allies will ultimately reduce it to negligible proportions.

As to the balancing factors which are likely to weigh in future relations between Japanese and Manchukuoites, the Times places in one scale the achievement of conscientious Japanese officials; making examples of the establishment of currency, practical development schemes, which even now the Chinese are discussing, and the generation and advantages of which Chinese peasants and merchants will appreciate despite their natural antipathy to foreign domination.

On the other side of the scale, the Japanese are temperamentally too reserved, perhaps, the Times thinks, to be good mixers with the Chinese; and their ambitions may tempt them to extend the sphere of their continental influence too widely.

The Japanese, says the editorial in conclusion, must demonstrate that they can manage the Chinese as well as rule them, realising that some day Manchurians may prefer to take their advice in preference to their orders.—Reuter.

CHEERO CLUB
QUARTERSCONDITIONAL SITE IN
BEACONSFIELD ARCADE

The "Cheero Club," which came to an end owing to the closing of the City Hall, and which in the past has done much for the benefit of the men of His Majesty's Services in Hongkong, was again set on its feet last evening at a meeting at Government House, convened by Lady Peel, and at which Hon. Sir Henry Pollock presided.

In the course of a short speech Lady Peel mentioned that the Government had offered a site on the corner of Beaconsfield Arcade, on condition that they put up a building costing at least $25,000, and appealed to the whole community of Hongkong to find money to build the greatly needed Club for the Service-men.

Lady Peel and Sir Henry Pollock were supported by H.E. the G.O.C. Major-General O. C. Borrett, Commodore Frank Elliot, the Bishop of Victoria (Rt. Rev. Ronald Owen Hall), His Honour Mr. J. R. Wood (Chief Justice), Sqr. Leader Wood, R.A.F., the Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall, the Hon. Sir Shou-son Chow and Mr. J. L. MacPherson.

Others present included Lady Pollock, Mrs. O. C. Borrett, Mrs. J. R. Wood, Mrs. Tinson, Rev. N. V. Halward, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Tratman, Mrs. Kemble, Lieut. Fisher, R.N., Mr. Murphy, Mr. T. E. "CUP OF AGONY"

GANDHI NOT TO COURT
IMPRISONMENT

Poona, Sept. 14. The Mahatma Gandhi has undertaken not to court re-imprisonment by offering aggressive civil resistance until August 8, 1934, although he will not modify his advice to Congress, urging individual civil disobedience.

He arrived at the decision, which he describes as a "bitter cup of agony," at the end of his protracted talks with Jawaharlal Nehru.

Jawaharlal Nehru states they faced two questions—the larger national issue of freedom and Gandhi's personal struggle. He added the Mahatma's leadership was still essential, but it was desirable to define the objective of the movement more clearly.—Reuter.

BANKING RECONSTRUCTION

The problems of industrial reconstruction, which are to-day engaging the thought of some of the best brains in Britain, have seldom been more clearly explained than in a report on banking, finance and investment submitted in the last day or two to the annual conference of the Labour Party. The origin of the analysis will doubtless prejudice feeling regarding its conclusions in many quarters, although the rapidity with which this spirit is disappearing is one of the most remarkable results of the world economic crisis. Proffered remedies for the world's ills are being examined upon their merits to-day more than ever before and the Labour report will undoubtedly be paid the tribute of the close attention of modern economists. Essentially, of course, the solution means reconstruction along Socialist lines, by the creation of a National Investment Board and the amalgamation of the "Big Five" in a single banking corporation, under public ownership and control. A few years ago, such proposals would have been condemned out of hand; but those who are learning the lessons of 1929-33 will at least study what the authors have to say. Much of it consists of a plain statement of conditions commonly admitted to exist; it is in the remedies that controversy lies, although the activities of the National Government and of the Roosevelt Administration contain in themselves the indications that ultimately planned economy, which is the basis, is bound to come. The National Investment Board would constitute the general staff of the Government for planning and co-ordinating the mobilisation and allocation of that part of the national wealth destined for capital investment. It would not directly finance any activities, public or private, but it would see that investment monies were diverted into socially-useful channels, ending the system where money does not go where it is most needed, but merely expresses the investor's natural desire to make private profit as quickly and as largely as possible. If anyone thinks that the undertaking is impossible, he need only be referred to the example of the War, when, in a state of admitted national emergency, finance and investment were, in fact, drastically controlled by the Government. Even to-day, the Chancellor of the Exchequer exercises some control over finance when he wills it, by imposing restrictions on Stock exchange activities, and foreign investments. In its scheme for control of banking, the Report contemplates that the Government would nominate the directors, that the present managers, and staff would continue to function under the new directorate, that the government would indicate the general lines of policy and would require the single Banking Corporation to cooperate with the Bank of England and the National Investment Board. The Report also contemplates the creation of a new credit institution, as recommended by the Macmillan Committee, to take over the frozen credits of the Joint Stock Banks. The object is to introduce greater efficiency and simplicity into Britain's financial institutions, to squeeze out the unnecessary middlemen and parasites, and to put the full country's financial resources to work. It makes excellent reading; if nothing else.

NOTES OF THE DAY

AFTER REPEAL—WHAT?

State after State in America is recording its conviction in favour of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. The decision seems likely to be unanimous. In the circumstances, it is an odd thing that the Americans seem to be too busy, or something, to give the slightest thought to the question of what policy is to be followed after the amendment has been discarded. Is the United States to go back to the old high-license regime that was common before 1920? Will they adopt the Ontario system, or a modification thereof? Is the Quebec system one which could be profitably copied? Will it be necessary to find an entirely new method of handling the problem?

All of these questions become more important each week. So far as we can see, no-one has hardly bothered to give them a thought. It would be very foolish to rush through with the task of repealing the dry law without devoting time to a consideration of what sort of control is to be exercised afterward.

ON THE ROAD

The Return of motoring offences in Britain for last year has some interesting features. There were 3,908 convictions for reckless or dangerous driving, and less than a fifth of the offenders had their licences suspended. The description dangerous driving means something far more serious at home than it means in Hongkong, where a charge of negligent driving would often be more suited to the facts. To bring the charge home it is necessary to prove the danger and that trifling formality is often dispensed with in local courts. In England as in Hongkong, provisions limiting the speed of certain vehicles seems to be treated with general contempt, for there were more than 81,000 convictions under it. And, since the average penalty inflicted was under two pounds, we must assume that the typical magistrate does not feel concerned to make it more respected. We often wonder whether 15 m.p.h. prominently displayed on commercial vehicles is intended to mean anything at all.

MR. GANDHI'S MISTAKE

In India the outlook seems perceptibly improving. But for Mr. Gandhi, the Poona meeting of the Congress would have called off civil disobedience. Already four-fifths of those who had been in prison for it a year ago have renounced it and come out. Mr. Gandhi, however, persuaded the meeting that instead of calling off unconditionally they should allow him to negotiate with the Viceroy for its removal on terms. Lord Willingdon very properly refused to make terms about the withdrawal of a policy which is "wholly unconstitutional" and with which "there can be no compromise." Mr. Gandhi, therefore, had to climb down and withdraw civil disobedience as a national policy while persisting in his intransigence by calling upon individual effort. His first sign of wisdom comes to-day with the announcement that he will not take steps likely to lead to re-imprisonment. This can only mean that individual disobedience will rapidly die as a doctrine.

EVENTS IN AMERICA

Events in America are exciting much attention and the "I told you so" school is likely to become active. It is already being pointed out that he has been very anxious over public works programmes and some other matters to disregard the experience of others and buy his own. He may buy it rather dear; but it would be a rash prophet who, viewing the many changes in Mr. Roosevelt's policy during the past few months, ventured any confident forecast of what he will be doing three months hence.

present managers, and staff would continue to function under the new directorate, that the government would indicate the general lines of policy and would require the single Banking Corporation to cooperate with the Bank of England and the National Investment Board. GILES PLAYFAIR FEARS THAT

SOON WE SHALL HAVE NO ACTORS

THE other day I had the honour to speak to one of the most famous provincial theatre managers in England.

He owns and directs a spacious playhouse, which decorates a fashionable seaside resort. Historic celebrities of the past and of the present have been proud to bring their plays and their companies to him. "In two years time," he said, cheerfully, and helped himself to a whisky and soda, "every provincial theatre in this country will be closed."

The average Londoner, in so far as he thinks of the Theatre at all, thinks of it only in terms of the West End stage. He is inclined to imagine that the handful of actors and actresses who perform there are the sum representatives of the theatrical profession and that the British Theatre begins and ends within a three-mile radius of Piccadilly-circus. Those who write periodically of theatre slumps and of theatre booms, are writing what they know of the financial status of the London managers. In actual fact the Theatre is one of the most overcrowded of our national activities; and if, numerically speaking, the West End stage accounts for but a fraction of this national activity, so to my mind is it only fractionally important. But the Provincial Theatre is hard hit by the crisis. It is hard enough hit to stagger the wildest imagination of the most pessimistic theatrical commentator.

THREATENED WITH EXTINCTION

The Provincial Theatre is literally threatened with extinction.

And it is my belief that if the threat is fulfilled all that is genuine and all that is founded on worthy tradition in our theatre to-day must inevitably disappear.

When I speak of a Provincial tour I do not confine myself to a discussion of those companies, headed by a minor London star, which seek to entertain the public by the presentation of some popular straight play; I include the twice-nightly touring revues, concert parties, repertory companies, theatrical performances of every sort and description.

All are affected by the depression in like manner, from the show which is given at a large theatre in some manufacturing town to the show which is given in a village hall.

Every resident manager, the greatest and the humblest, will tell you the same story. The proprietor of a seaside pavilion recently informed me that he had been in the Coast business for 30 years and that his experience was worth nothing to him. Nowadays whatever attraction he cares to book he can never be sure of its appeal, and as often as not it turns out to be a complete failure. He has been compelled to dismiss most of his staff and has taken to dusting the auditorium himself.

ALL IS NOT WELL

It would be idle to pretend that there are no exceptions to this general rule. There are some touring shows which have done well and are still doing well. There are some resident concert parties which have made a deal of money for their sponsors. But the end fact remains that all is not well with our Provincial Theatre and there seems scant hope of improvement.

It would surprise many to realise that in the palmy days of the Theatre the successful touring actor was far more certain of a lucrative living than the West End star. It would surprise them more to realise that there are many famous touring actors who have refused and are ready to refuse again any offer, however tempting, to play on the London Stage.

And it is still true to say that in a profession where fortunes are seldom made, the richest actors are those who have bothered to build for themselves a provincial reputation.

But the main point is this. The successful touring actor knows how to act. He knows how to act because he has learned his craft in a hard school. A provincial audience expects a certain standard of histrionic competence. And a provincial audience is not slow to voice its displeasure if that standard of competence is not maintained.

HIGH LEVEL OF INCOMPETENCE

Old actors will tell you, quite rightly, that the best stage training must begin on tour. Yesterday no actor or actress would dare face a London audience until he or she had been trained in this way. All our greatest men of the theatre have graduated from the provinces.

To-day the discipline of Yesterday has been relaxed and the result is plain to see. Young men and women walk the London Stage without any previous experience and maintain a high level of incompetence. The perpetuation of the genuine theatrical craft is left to the touring companies and the rare few who still think it worth while to learn the job of acting are left to bring spasmodic hope to the London Stage.

From these remarks it is easy to understand the irreparable blow which would be struck at one of our oldest national pastimes if the Provincial Theatre were in fact to suffer extinction. There is grave danger of it. The reason for the danger is not hard to discover nor is the remedy far off. The average playgoer used to be content with what he called his money's worth. In these days of financial depression money is tight and hard to spare. Moreover, the average playgoer has grown used to the cheap luxuries of the cinema. He looks for more than his money's worth. It is for the enterprising touring managers to fulfil his expectations.

I seriously advise all those who are interested in the welfare of our Theatre to give to the Provinces their valuable attention; for if they do not all other effort, however brave and sincere, will be sadly wasted.

The Very Idea!

By Eddie "So & So" Kelly

EVERYBODY'S doing it. You can buy tickets in the Chinese National Sweep, the Irish Sweep, Tattersall's, Police Sweeps, Street Sweeps, and many other sweeps too numerous and dirty to mention. Consequently, Edward Kelly announces the opening of an office for the sale of sweep tickets in Hongkong.

Invest your money in Kelly Sweeps Inc. Do you want half a million bucks? Would first prize in the Irish Sweep be of any use to you. Or would you like to invest ten cents in the office Football Sweep?

If so, Kelly is your man. All you have to do is send him the necessary cash (together with ullage, corkage and pillage) to win a prize. He will invest the money (less corkage, ullage and pillage) in any sweep you care to obtain tickets in. Saves worry and time.

If your ticket wins a prize, Edward Kelly will depart the very next day by the P. & O. liner for Europe; if it doesn't the applicant will be given the ticket, suitably framed and inscribed, as a souvenir.

Edward Kelly has always been lucky. Robert MacWhirter once gave him a gold watch and chain, a Parker fountain pen and five bucks in cash.

Naturally, when MacWhirter started to get a bit sore, Kelly had to return the five bucks and the gold watch, but he managed to blame someone else for the loss of the fountain pen.

Kelly has also been very lucky in other respects. He once got a silver-plated spittoon from the Hongkong Hotel, a set of teaspoons from the Exchange Restaurant, and has several times managed to evade the boy with the chit book at the Peninsula.

You're bound to be lucky if you invest your lottery cash with Kelly Inc. You can't go wrong, especially if you're a man.

Kelly has had years of practice with barrels. Why not share in his luck. Let him buy your next lottery ticket, and if it wins a prize and you can get anything out of him, you'll know what luck is.

These results speak for themselves. In the last Chinese National Sweep, a ticket obtained by Kelly was only 10,121 off the first prize. In the last two Irish Sweeps Kelly has just missed winning £2,000,000.

SEND YOUR MONEY NOW. NO QUESTIONS ASKED.

ROBBERY

"Good morning, sister. How is the patient brought in on that emergency case last night doing this morning?"

"He had an uncomfortable night, but is much improved to-day, doctor."

"He sure was brought here in a serious condition. The policeman said he found him in the middle of Der Voex Road wandering around in a dazed condition. Poor fellow, he must have been in a terrible brawl of some kind. Has he told anyone what happened yet? he wasn't able to last night?"

"Why, yes, doctor. He says he was walking across the road and that he's near-sighted and that—"

"Hm, hm, hm, I see; probably stepped right in front of an motor-car and didn't see it coming. Too bad, too bad; that's just what—"

"No, doctor, that isn't it. He hailed a car, it stopped, he got in, and then—"

GOOD HEAVENS

Every woman we fall in love with has either an obnoxious husband or a passionate desire for matrimony.

We want to die and go to heaven. We shall enjoy heaven.

Every woman there will be beautiful and exquisite. We can fancy, ourselves, chasing them through the soft, grey clouds, their pink heels pattering among the stars, their glorious eyes flashing an invitation to us.

How delightful it will be, for one can fall in love several times in what one says! For in heaven there shall be no marriage, no giving in marriage.

THREE AMERICAN VAGRANTS

COMMITTED TO HOUSE OF DETENTION

Charged with being vagrants in the Colony, three American citizens, Harold Pearson, Charles Auson Bauer and Alecis Bundholm, unemployed seamen, were committed to the House of Detention by Mr. Balfour in the Central Police Court this morning.

Detective Sergeant Mottram said the three men were members of the crew of the s.s. Golden Tide which arrived here in August. For various reasons they missed their ship. The States Steamship Company, agents for the vessel, agreed to put them up at the Seamen's Institute until the arrival of another ship, the Golden Dragon.

The defendants signified their unwillingness to be taken on as "workaways" with a nominal wage, as opposed to the other members of the crew. They also refused to go because the route taken by the Golden Dragon was

He asked for them to be committed to the House of Detention until suitable arrangements could be made.

AN INNOCENT VICTIM

LAD THE TOOL OF HIS MASTER

BIG HEROIN HAUL

Foo Fun, a lad of 16 years, charged before Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy this morning with possession of 30,000 heroin pills on the third floor of No. 74, Queen's Road, West was bound over in a $50 surety.

Mr. R. H. Cole, appearing for the defendant, pleaded guilty, and asked that leniency be shown as the defendant was the innocent tool of his master, who had sent him to get the pills.

Revenue Officer Grimmitt said that the premises were raided, and a little while later the defendant came along with the keys to the cubicle, in which the pills and 17 tael of raw opium were found. The defendant said he had been sent by his master to get some pills, but his master could not be found. It appears that three men had placed the pills in the cubicle three days previous. He would withdraw the charge of possession of raw opium against defendant.

ILLICIT WINE.

Lai Kau-lo, a coolie, charged with possession of 15 gallons of Chinese wine on which duty had not been paid at No. 7, North Street, 1st floor, was fined $300 or three months hard labour.

Revenue Officer Grimmitt said that it was a very serious case, as the wine had been brought from Tientsin and was being sold in the street to sailors.

MAN INTERFERES IN ARREST

CONSTABLE IMPEDED IN DOING HIS DUTY

A Chinese constable arrested a man for hawking chickens in Prince's Terrace yesterday without a licence. On the way to Central Police Station, another man came up and snatched the basket of chickens. The hawker was released and the intruder was intercepted in Hollywood Road by Sergeant Melniss.

As a sequel Lau Sang, 20, was charged before Mr. Balfour in the Central Police Court this morning with obstructing P. C. C. 585 in the execution of his duty. He was convicted and fined $25 or three weeks.

PERFECT NUISANCE

GIRL WHO BEGGED OUTSIDE OF HONGKONG HOTEL

Charging a Chinese girl with begging in Pedder Street, Sub-Inspector Smith, in the Central Police Court this morning, described her as being "a perfect nuisance outside the Hongkong Hotel." She approached every European and also accosted the Inspector.

The girl contended that she and her brother had been sent out by their mother to beg. The mother strongly denied this.

The mother, who was present in Court, was bound over with defendant in a bond for five dollars.

DAY BY DAY NEWS IN BRIEF

"CONTENT—THE ABSOLUTE RESIGNATION TO THINGS AS THEY ARE—IS NOT A NORMAL STATE OF MIND. IT IS FATALISTIC. THERE IS A VIRTUE IN MAKING THE BEST OF THINGS, BUT THAT IS CHEERFUL ACCEPTANCE, NOT CONTENT."—Mary Roberts Rinehart.

The quarantine restrictions imposed by the Government of the Straits Settlements against arrivals from Hongkong on account of small-pox have been removed.

Cheung Chit, a dockyard coolie, who was discharged yesterday for an alleged indecent assault on Cheung Chan, a married woman, at No. 4, Electric Street, was remanded in order that inquiries could be made with regard to the case.

Threatened, was this morning bound over in $100 to keep the peace and be of good behaviour for one year.

INTERNATIONAL TENNIS

CRAWFORD LOSES TO SHIELDS

Lake Forest, Sept. 14. Despite the defeat of Jack Crawford by Frank X. Shields, Australia beat America in a friendly international tennis match here to-day by three rubbers to two.

The best of three sets was played in each match, with the exception of one of the doubles and Crawford was defeated by two sets to one after winning the first.

This follows almost immediately upon his defeat by Perry in the American Championship.

The Australian had a hard tussle to win the first set, Shields contesting it until the 12th game, but in the next two sets, the American was all round superior and won quite comfortably.

PARKER BEATS McGRATH.
Frankie Parker, the young America prodigy overcame Vivian McGrath in a battle of "youthful giants" in straight sets. Parker's ground strokes were flawless.

Adrian Quist created one of the biggest surprises of the tournament by beating Keith Gledhill after losing the opening set.

The Australians played splendidly to win both doubles matches. Crawford and McGrath easily beat Shields and Parker, this being the only match allowed to go to four sets. The Australian pair won three of them after conceding the first.

Scores as cabled by Reuter were:

SINGLES.

A. Quist (Australia) beat K. Gledhill (America) 3-6, 6-2, 6-3.
F. Parker (America) beat V. McGrath (Australia) 6-4, 6-2.
F. X. Shields (America) beat J. Crawford (Australia) 5-7, 6-3, 6-2.

DOUBLES.

Crawford and McGrath (Australia) beat Shields and Parker (America) 6-8, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.
Quist and Turnbull (Australia) beat Lot and Stoeffen (America) 1-6, 11-9, 6-3.

Later, Wilmer Allison beat Turnbull, the Australian, by 6-3, 6-3 in an exhibition match at Forest Lakes this afternoon.—Reuter.

SPEEDING

CARS AND LORRY DRIVERS FINED

James Dor A. Wing, residing at No. 60, Queen's Road, Central, was fined $25 by Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy, this morning, for having driven at an excessive speed in a controlled area in Aberdeen.

Traffic Inspector Alexander said that the defendant was driving between 25 and 28 miles an hour in the controlled area in Aberdeen coming towards Hongkong.

Yeung Wai-kwan, the driver of a motor lorry, was similarly fined for having driven at a dangerous speed in Pokfulam Road.

Traffic Sergeant Winslade said that the defendant was driving at 30 miles an hour from the site of the new hospital. He was carrying several coolie women in the lorry, and was taking all the corners at this speed.

Pang Pong-hau, another lorry driver, was fined $20 for having driven at a dangerous speed in Connaught Road, West.

Traffic Sergeant Howell said that he was in Western Street when he saw the defendant pass by at between 25 and 30 miles an hour. The road was fairly clear of traffic, but there were a large number of pedestrians about.

Mr. G. White, of the Education Department, summoned for having caused obstruction outside the King's Theatre, was fined $5.

ILLEGAL BISHI

CIVIL CLAIM AGAINST MEMBERS FAILS

THE JUDGMENT

Judgment was given this morning by Mr. R. E. Lindsell, Pulo Judge, in the claim by Bani Ram, of the Tokio Hotel, for $175 alleged to be due on a Promissory Note against Bishan, Bante, and Kapur Singh, of 6, Anton Street.

Mr. A. Arculli represented plaintiff and Mr. F. C. E. Rendall appeared for the first defendant. All the parties were registered Indian money-lenders.

For the defence it was contended that the Promissory note emanated from a bishi which consisted of more than 20 members, and was therefore illegal.

Giving judgment for defendants, His Lordship said he agreed with Mr. Arculli that he, the Judge, was not entitled to call the witness Qutab Din to give evidence without the consent of both parties and would dismiss from his mind the effect, if any, of his evidence.

Analysing the evidence, he had come to the conclusion that the bishi consisted of more than 20 members and the whole effect of the testimony established to his mind, that it was a money loan association in no substantial way to be distinguished from any other Chinese money loan association or bishi of the usual type; that it must have come into being through the mutual agreement and for the mutual benefit of all the individuals comprising it, and that the position and duties of the head were determined by consent of all.

AN ILLEGAL BISHI.

The judgment continued: "The facts that settlements were effected with the head and that undrawn members looked to the head for payment are no evidence of any legal contractual relationship between the head and any member. They show no more than that by common consent the management of the bishi was placed in the hands of the head."

"Looking at the matter from another point of view, it can be argued that the head of the bishi could in his own name have sued any defaulting member for the amount of his unpaid subscriptions: I think not. The payment of a monthly subscription was one of the rules of the association with which every member contracted with every other member to conform, and similarly the consideration for each member's promise to pay his subscription was not an undertaking by the head to allow such member his draw for a share in the rebates, but the promise of every other member to pay a similar subscription for the same object."

"For these reasons I think it is established that this bishi was an association of more than 20 members formed by mutual agreement to carry on business with the object of acquiring gain, and that it was therefore illegal. It is not disputed that the contract here sued on was one made in furtherance of the association's activities. The contract cannot therefore be enforced."

LOCAL WILLS

$31,000 ESTATE OF MR. G. E. ELLAMS

William Alexander Stopani, retired mercantile assistant, who died at the Matilda Hospital on May 20, last left $32,100 local estate, letters of administration to which have been granted to his sister, Alice Fraser Smith Maitland, widow, of 2, Branksome Towers, May Road.

Local estate sworn under $18,900 was left by James Simpson Cumbray View, Innellan, Argyllshire, died on February 25, 1932. A certified copy of the confirmation of the executrix has been granted to the widow, Elsie Walker Simpson.

George Ernest Ellams, secretary of the Hongkong, Canton, and Macao Steamboat Co., Ltd. who died at the Cancer Hospital, Victoria, on July 18, left local estate sworn under $31,000. Probate of the will has been granted to Bernard Brown, of Gloucester Building.

Local estate valued at $5,800 was left by Miss Florence Fanny McClatchie, late of 4, South Row, Greenwich, Kent, and formerly of 21, Craigmore Road, Blackheath, and permission to re-sell the certified copy of the probate of the will has been granted to Mr. G. G. N. Tinton, solicitor.

Have you seen the

"Camber" Curl?

The new shape turns up.

The snap brim has held the field so long that you may be a little nervous of this new shape, turned up in front. If you are, then call in Mackintosh's and try it on—and see whether the curled brim and its almost jaunty air do not make a particularly distinguished hat. And one that suits you very well indeed.

CHEVROLET
STANDARD SIX

Offering you all the quality, dependability, performance and comfort you would expect from the world's largest builder of automobiles.

Do you wonder that it's causing so much comment? A CHEVROLET, with everything the name stands for, A CHEVROLET enclosed car at the lowest price in history. Naturally, it has captured the spotlight. Every man and woman interested in motor cars is talking about it, exclaiming over it. OVER THE PRICE, of course, because $600 is certainly something to exclaim about. But even more enthusiastically over what the price buys:

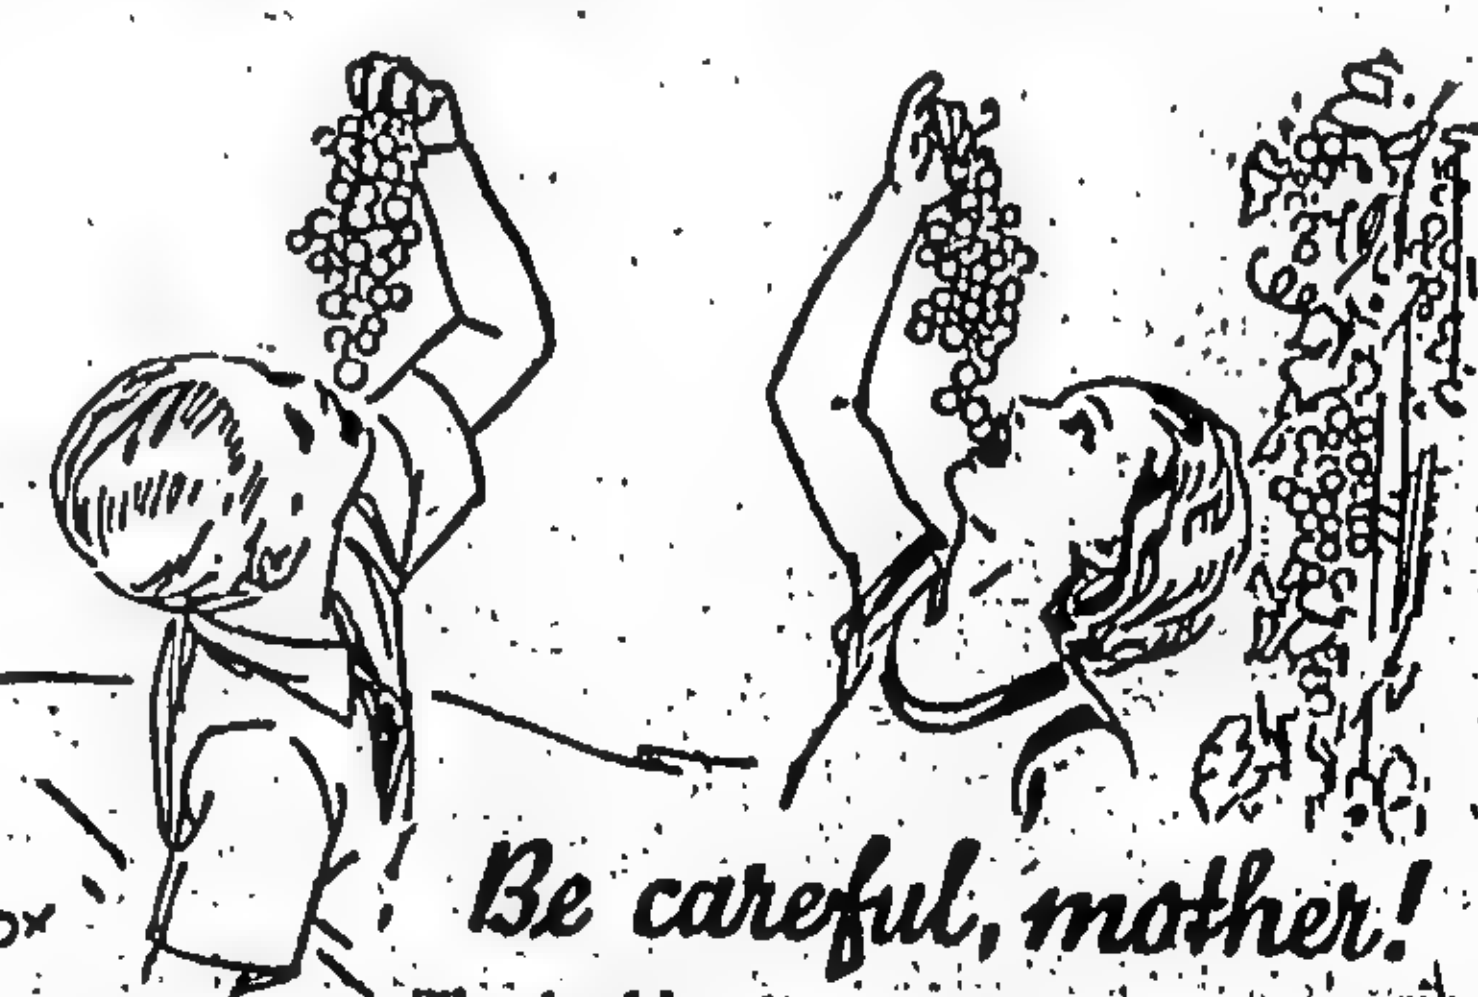

FISHER coachwork. FISHER wood-and-steel body construction. FISHER No Draft Ventilation. Safety plate glass in the windshield. A smooth six-cylinder engine. A SILENT-SECOND TRANSMISSION. A chassis that's full-size. And modern, streamlined styling that instantly proclaims to the world—"This is a fine, QUALITY automobile."

And indeed it is. Every inch and every ounce of it. A CHEVROLET in basic worthiness. A CHEVROLET in dependability. A CHEVROLET in engineering and craftsmanship. Come and see for yourself.

HOCKEY SEASON APPROACHES: SOME CLUB PROSPECTS

YORKSHIRE CRICKET IN THE OLDEN DAYS

By "HISTORICUS"

FURTHER MATCHES WITH SURREY.

The first of the 1872 matches (played at Bramall Lane on June 17, 18, and 19), was a very exciting one, ending as it did in a victory for Surrey by 18 runs. Surrey's first innings realised 147 (Jupp 11, R. Humphrey 45, Pooley 30 and Street 21 not out). Yorkshire tried five bowlers, and of these, the most successful were Lockwood with 3 wickets for 32 runs, Bosomworth with 2 for 35 and Hill with 2 for 38.

Yorkshire's first innings total (152) exceeded that of Surrey by 5 runs, mainly due to Ephraim Lockwood (not out) and Allen Hill 30 (not out) being the only "double-figure" batsmen. Surrey, like Yorkshire, utilised the services of five bowlers, of whom the best were Southerton with 5 wickets for 72 and Marten with 4 for 44.

Surrey's second venture brought them 106 (R. Humphrey 34, W. T. Palmer 23 and Pooley 15). Yorkshire again had five bowlers, of whom the best were Southerton with 7 wickets for 83 runs, A. Freeman 1 for 27, Brown 2 for 17 and Hill and Lockwood 1 each for 10 and 21 respectively.

With 102 to get to win, Yorkshire stood a good chance of being successful till Ephraim Lockwood put his leg in front of a straight one from Strachan (he was probably endeavouring to induce in one of his favourite strokes—a cut off the middle stump) and received marching orders with his score at 30—Andrew Greenwood and Joseph Rowbotham having assisted him with scores of 13 and 17 respectively. Thereafter, it was "all plain sailing" for Surrey, as Southerton, treating the remaining batsmen as "rabbits", confined the Yorkshire total to 83, and thus secured the victory for Surrey by 18 runs. Southerton's Analysis showed 7 wickets for 34 runs, while Strachan took 2 for 38.

The return match took place at Kennington Oval on August 1, 2 and 3. Surrey, having won the toss, led off with 104 (T. Humphrey 16, R. Humphrey 70, Pooley 20, Mr. C. C. Cumberlege 20 and A. Freeman 14). Yorkshire again had five bowlers. Of these, Emmett took 4 wickets for 83 runs, Hill with 3 for 26 and Lockwood with 3 for 44 were the successful ones.

Yorkshire opened their first innings with H. Kaye and C. Halliley who had scored 19 between them, when Kaye was run out with his score at 8. Ephraim Lockwood then came in and stopped in for three hours, scoring 121—a faultless innings—while a more wicket fell, namely those of Kaye 23, Andrew Greenwood 24, Joseph Rowbotham 24, Tom Emmett 39.

Iddison 11, West 31, George Pinder (the famous wicket-keeper) 42 (not out) and Allen Hill 16 carried on the good work of their predecessors, so that the Yorkshire innings did not close until 345 had been scored. Of the five Surrey bowlers, Hill took 4 wickets for 121 runs, Street 3 for 95 and Marten 2 for 67.

Surrey then went in for the second time. They commenced well—Jupp 64 and R. Humphrey 70, putting on 119 before the first wicket (Humphrey's) fell. They were, however, very poorly supported—only Mr. F. H. Boulton (15) of the remaining batsmen reaching "double-figures"—and when the last wicket fell, the total for that innings had only been carried to 172—leaving Yorkshire with but 22 to obtain to win—which they scored without loss. Pinder 15 (not out) and Hill 8 (not out). In Surrey's second innings, the best of the Yorkshire bowlers (five in number) were Emmett with 4 wickets for 60 runs, and Hill with 4 for 47. In the last wicket, Hill captured 4 wickets (all clean bowled) for 70 runs.

In 1873, two matches took place, the first being played at Bramall Lane on June 16 and 17. Surrey batted first, and finding Hill and Emmett in good form, could only put together 79 (Jupp 12, Pooley 10 and A. Freeman 11 not out)—Hill capturing 4 wickets for 32 runs and Emmett 6 for 32.

Yorkshire in their first innings, scored even worse than Surrey, scoring only 64 (Andrew Greenwood 22 and Emmett 11)—Southerton taking 6 wickets for 24 and Street 4 for 30. In their second innings, Surrey made 84 (A. Freeman 21, Bristol 13 (not out) and Southerton 15)—Hill and Emmett capturing 4 wickets for 23 runs and 6 for 40 respectively.

The task of making 110 runs to win was treated lightly-hearted by the "Tykes" who won by 8 wickets with a score of 113 (Greenwood making 8, Emmett 41 and Lockwood and A. P. Smith 30 and 25—each not out—respectively).

Hill and Emmett bowled unchanged throughout the match—Hill's figures being 8 wickets for 65 and Emmett's 18 for 84.

The second match took place at Kennington Oval on August 11, 12 and 13. Yorkshire batted first, scored 259 (Andrew Greenwood 38, A. P. Smith 11, Ephraim Lockwood 24, Joseph Rowbotham 113, John Thewlis 60 and Allen Hill 16)—Southerton taking 4 wickets for 113 runs and Street 2 for 82.

Surrey in response could score no more than 131 (Jupp 23, R. Humphrey 17, Mr. N. Morris 22, Mr. F. H. Boulton 22, A. Freeman 10 and A. Chandler 10). For Yorkshire, Lockwood had 4 wickets for 20, Hill 3 for 24, and Emmett 1 for 37.

Surrey "followed-on", and this time managed rather better, making 162 (Jupp 64, R. Humphrey 30, Mr. W. W. Read—probably Surrey's finest, old amateur, whose first match it was for his county—14, Mr. F. H. Boulton 13 and Mr. W. H. Game—who hailed from Sherborne School, and had played in the Cambridge University XI—19). For Yorkshire, Hill captured 6 wickets (5 clean bowled) for 66 runs, West 3 for 26 and Lockwood 1 for 12.

Yorkshire obtained the 30 runs necessary for victory for the loss of 1 wicket (West 7, Emmett 17 (not out) and Hill 12 not out) thus winning the match by 9 wickets.

The first of the 1874 matches had as its venue Bramall Lane. Yorkshire had first innings and scored 206 (Ephraim Lockwood 32, Andrew Greenwood 77, Walter Smith 33 and Joseph Rowbotham 42). Of the Surrey bowlers, Southerton took 7 wickets for 83 runs, A. Freeman 1 for 27, Clifford 1 for 23 and Street 1 for 80.

Surrey's first innings realised 138 (R. Humphrey 74 and W. T. Palmer 26). For Yorkshire, Hill captured 4 wickets for 59 runs, and Emmett 5 for 57.

Yorkshire's second "knock" was a harder one than their first and placed 251 runs to their credit (Ephraim Lockwood 32, Andrew Greenwood 33, Walter Smith 59, Tom Emmett 69, Joseph Rowbotham 10, Allen Hill 17 and Luke Greenwood 16). Surrey tried five bowlers, of whom the most successful were Southerton with 5 wickets for 67 runs and A. Freeman with 2 for 50.

Needing 320 runs for victory, Surrey in reality were facing a hopeless task for Allen Hill with 7 wickets (6 clean bowled) for 62 runs and Tom Emmett with 3 (all clean bowled) for 47, dismissed them for 121 (Pooley 20, J. J. Swan 49 not out and A. Freeman 15) thus enabling Yorkshire to win by 198 runs.

The return match took place at Kennington Oval on August 17, 18 and 19. Yorkshire, batting first, made 187 (John Thewlis 50, Ephraim Lockwood 36, and R. Clayton 17). For Surrey, Southerton had 4 wickets for 61 runs, Street 3 for 21 and Strachan 2 for 18.

Surrey in their first innings found Tom Emmett and George Ulyett (with 4 wickets for 36 and 5 for 62 respectively) too much for them and could only place 95 runs to their credit (Jupp 43, not out, G. Clifford 13 and E. Pooley 13) so they had to "follow-on".

They made a much better show in their second innings, which amounted to 193 (Jupp 109 not out, Strachan 24, Mr. W. W. Read 16, Clifford 17 and Southerton 10). For Yorkshire, Emmett captured 5 wickets for 64 runs and Ulyett 4 for 79.

Yorkshire lost 6 wickets before making the 102 runs necessary to give them the victory, which, however, they ultimately obtained with 4 wickets in hand—John Thewlis scoring 38, Andrew Greenwood 22 not out, Tom Emmett 32—Southerton and Clifford for Surrey taking 4 wickets for 38 runs and 2 for 32 respectively.

It is to be noted that Jupp "carried his bat" in both the Surrey innings. The reference to the match in "Cricket Scores and Biographies," published by the M.C.C., emphasises the rarity of this feat and also points out that Jupp gave no "chance" in either innings and states that over £20 was "collected for him by the Surrey public" in admiration for the foregoing performance.

NEEDLE BOWLS MATCH AT CRAIGENGOWER

SCHMELING-PAOLINO BOUT POSTPONED.

Amsterdam, Sept. 6.

The fight between the former world-champion, the German heavyweight Max Schmeling, and the Basque woodchopper, Paolino, which was scheduled to take place here some time next month, was cancelled to-day as the Mayor of Amsterdam refuses to lift the ban on boxing, decreed for this city about two years ago.

The promoters of the fight, it is stated in this connexion, now intend to stage the meeting between the two boxers in May next in some other Dutch city, most probably Rotterdam.

SPORTS AT Y.M.C.A.

EXTENSION THIS WINTER

INTEREST SHOWN BY MEMBERS

Sports and pastimes at the European Y.M.C.A., this winter are going to be made unusually attractive judged by the many suggestions outlined at the members' meeting held last night.

Improvements are to be made to the hard tennis court at the rear of the building, and greater efforts are to be made to popularise squash rackets.

Indoor recreations are to be extended. An effort is to be made to play badminton in the West Lounge, an inter-floor billiards tournament is suggested as well as matches with the Services, and Mr. E. F. Sell, the Sports Secretary, is hoping to introduce parallel bars and other forms of physical training.

Keeness was also displayed by the members in the furtherance of the many other branches of Y.M.C.A. winter activity and the season promises to be a big success.

BOY TENNIS PRODIGY IN AUSTRALIA

Rockhampton, Queensland.

Among those who have qualified for the men's B. Grade Tennis championship of Central Queensland is a 13-year-old boy, Walter Jackson, believed to be the only player in Australia to use a double grip for both forehand and backhand.

Two championships have already gone to his credit, including the men's C. grade championship.

Jackson started playing when he was 11. His peculiar grip seemed to come naturally, and he is solely self-taught.

A move is afoot to send him to Brisbane for the State primary school championships.

A YOUNG SPORTSMAN.

The young son of Capt. Walker, master of the Haining, and of Mrs. Walker of Kowloon, is making a name for himself in England where he is a student at the University School. Recently he was a member of the school's four which won the Reynolds Shield for three years in succession.

Another member of the same team was the son of Mr. Russell Bassett, formerly very well-known in Shanghai and now in retirement in Southampton, England.

One of the team and Bassett the youngest.

TITLE AT STAKE

CRAIGENGOWER SHOULD WIN

K.B.G.C. VERY INTERESTED

Hongkong's unusually interesting and exciting lawn bowls league season has now reached the final stage.

To-morrow, the last match of the schedule in the second division will be played and on its result depends the championship.

Craigengower and Civil Service are the contestants, and in order to make certain of retaining the title, Craigengower must win.

Civil Service have no direct interest in the leadership, but should they beat Craigengower it will enable the Kowloon Bowling Green to claim a deciding match with the present champions.

Judged by current form, plus the fact that the match is on the C.C.C. green, to-morrow's game looks a fairly safe thing for the "Craig". True, last week they were completely outplayed by the Bowling Green; but then Civil Service also lost to the Police. It is unlikely that Craigengower will make the same mistake two weeks running.

This week's rains have done the green an enormous amount of good and it promises to be in splendid condition to-morrow. The probable teams are:

CRAIGENGOWER.

G. Duncan, F.K. Modi, W. Gill and H.V. Pearce (skip). D.K. Kharas, M.J. Medina, Y. Abbas, and A.A. Razack (skip). C.E. Simons, H. Milton, W. Ward and W.V. Field.

CIVIL SERVICE.

J. Champelovier, L.R. Whant, J.F. McGowan, and H. Westlake (skip). J. Purvis, J. Fitzgerald, R.R. Davis, and R.L. Wood (skip). S. Eccleshall, L. Collyer, L. Luck, and H.E. Strange (skip).

THE INTERPORT

CONTINUOUS PLAY FOR FORTNIGHT

An elaborate programme has been arranged for the Shanghai visitors, who will have a fortnight's bowling in the Colony. On the arrival of the team the players will be met by officials of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association and will be conducted to the Peninsula Hotel, where they will stay during their visit.

The team is expected to arrive early on Friday, and in the afternoon it has been arranged that they be given a roll-up practice on the Police green, the Police R.C. to provide the opposition.

The first Interport match will take place on Saturday, October 7, a week after their arrival, the second on October 16 which is a public holiday and the final on Saturday October 14. However, should the weather forecast indicate that Saturday October 14 will be wet then the final game will be brought forward to Thursday as the Shanghai team will sail on Sunday October 15.

By "Bully-Off"

Hockey will soon be in full swing and the enthusiasm which has reigned at the trial and practice matches during the past two or three weeks augurs well for a most successful season. It is indeed gratifying to note the improved form many of the teams have shown to date.

The game will this year come under the jurisdiction of the newly-formed Hongkong Hockey Association. Although only just over two months old it has already justified its existence. Rules have been formulated with the utmost care and a Hockey Umpires Board has been elected whose chief function will be to see that the game is governed only by those fully qualified. Each would-be Umpire is to be subjected to an examination before he is eligible to take control of any match, whether tournament or friendly.

THE MAMAK LEAGUE.

The Mamak Tournament will again be the centre of most interest and it is to be hoped that the bickering and ill-feeling which crept in at the end of last year will not occur. The main trouble was that there were too many individuals who took it upon themselves to give instructions. Decisions were made by one person holding an official position without the authority of the Executive and chaos naturally resulted. If the M.H.T. is to continue to enjoy its popularity of the past this must be eliminated. Clubs should take the precaution to ascertain whether any instructions given them are given with the confirmation of the Executive.

The absentees this year will be the Incognitos, R.A.S.C., 1st H.K.S. Battery, Tamar, 20th Battery, 24th Battery, and the R.A.M.C. Replies have not yet been received from the Police, Wistart, Veteran, Phoenix, and Parthian, and newcomers are the Stule Corps and the United Hockey Club, the latter being composed of old boys from the Diocesan Boys' School.

The absence of the Incognitos enhances the chances of the Radio performing the "hat-trick". Their only challengers appear to be St. Andrew's who finished third in the table last season. The Radio have the advantage, however, of being in perfect fettle when the competition commences as they have been practicing throughout the summer months.

AMONG THE TEAMS

LIKELY MAMAK CHAMPIONS

During the next two or three weeks I propose running through the prospects of the teams in the Colony, with a few details as to personnel.

It would not surprise me at all to see the Radio Sports Club complete the "hat-trick" in the Mamak Tournament this year. During the past two seasons they can rightly claim to have fielded one of the strongest combinations in the Colony. They won the Mamak trophy in the first year of its offering, and although the shield was withdrawn last season following the controversy regarding the English Hockey Association and prize competitions, the Radio retained the Championship.

This year they are again putting out a formidable side, and with the non-entry of the Incognitos have very little opposition. Their closest rivals would appear to be St. Andrew's who intend making a strong bid for the Championship honours.

PERSONNEL COMMENTS.

The Radio have been constantly at practice during the summer months and will thus start the season on tip-top form. Their team consists of practically the same players as last year. In goal will be Man Singh who did some starward defending last year. The practice games during the summer months have been most instructive. The great things are expected of him. Parduman Singh has a claim to being one of the best right full-backs in the game locally. He shows excellent ball control and clearing ability. J. S. Grewal on the left roles a great deal on first-time hitting. This is rather a dangerous play but constant practice has eradicated inaccuracy to a great extent.

STRONG FORWARDS.

Jagmeet Singh will be in his customary position at right-half while Mohinder Singh, the latter is inclined to be erratic and would do well to use his head a little more. M. H. Haasan will again take up the centre position in the intermediate line. He has had plenty of past experience which he uses to advantage in feeding his forwards.

Trum Singh, a new comer to the Club, will take up the position on the right wing. Surjin Singh is a good all round player and has in the past represented the Radio between the sticks. His successor is reliable and centres well. Gurbachan Singh will be in his usual position at right inner. His deadly shooting earned him a great reputation as leading goal getter last year. He will be a force to be reckoned with again this season. He is fast and displays stickwork which is a treat to watch. Occasionally he moves into the pivotal position. Kalwant Singh will be playing at left inner.

NEW BLOOD FOR K.I.T.C.

WINTER WILL SEE IMPROVED TEAM

The K.I.T.C. has again entered a team in the Mamak Tournament and is putting a much improved eleven in the field this year. Many of their players were almost new to the game last season, but they received—sufficient—experience to enable them to give a good account of themselves during the coming season.

Four new players will be included in their ranks. K. Noronha, A. L. Souza, H. Singh and Waryam Singh. The first two will constitute the left flank, at left-wing and left-inner respectively, and although at present out of practice should considerably strengthen the Indians' team.

H. Singh has recently returned from long leave in India. Whilst away he contracted an illness from which he has not fully yet recovered but by the time the Mamak tournament commences I hope to see him well and doing his bit at right-inner. Waryam Singh has this year been given the key position, and in the recent practice and friendly games has justified his inclusion.

K. Hussain, who played right-wing last year has been transferred to left-half, and his tackling combined with agility and speed make him a valuable half. Naidu, the Club's vice-captain, and Karnail Singh, in the rear-line, are playing on the top of their form.

Ahmad Khan, the Club's contra-forward, goes on short leave in November and it will be a problem to find a player of equal ability to take his place. There are many reserves available but they are unfortunately not quite up to tournament standard. These should be given every opportunity in friendly matches.

"SPORTING PARSON" OF THE BALKANS

Boigrade.

The "Sporting Parson" of the Balkans is Josip Lihota of Ljegrada, on the Drava River.

He has just become qualified as a professional referee. This enables him to add to his small salary as a priest by refereeing at football matches, most of which take place in Yugo Slavia on Sunday.

The "Sporting Parson" maintains that not only does this add to his income, but it also enables young men and with the requirements of modern times.

JAPAN'S MINISTER MEETS
MR. WANG

Nanking, Sept. 14. The Japanese Minister to China, Mr. Araiyoishi arrived here from Shanghai this morning and will pay a courtesy call upon Mr. Wang Ching-wei at 9 o'clock this evening at the latter's official residence.

Mr. Wang will also meet Mr. Bogomoloff, the Soviet Ambassador, at a private meeting this evening.—Reuter.

NEW YORK STOCK
EXCHANGEYESTERDAY'S MARKET STEADY

According to Messrs. Swan, Culbertson and Fritz, the New York market was steady yesterday. Business done 2,900,000 shares. The Wall Street Journal report on yesterday's market:—The market was active and strongly upheld led by gold-mining and silver issues due to inflation talk and the Administration's intent to resume boosting commodities and expand credit—especially Senator Harrison's demand for inflation immediately including recommendation for monetization of silver which would be beneficial. Winnipeg Wheat: The removal of minimum price pegs caused grains to sag. Our New York Office cable (This morning). Stocks: The weakness in utilities moderately unsettled rest of the list but character of support indicates an early resumption of advance. Wheat: The removal of fresh buying carried wheat prices higher. The removal of Winnipeg price peg had a bearish effect there which caused our recession. Constructive side still favoured. Cash strengthening. Cotton: Understand recurrence of inflation talk is stimulating activity on North Street which in turn is influencing buying attributed to Government agencies attracted some speculative buying. Late reaction due to hedge selling. Spot inquiry reported improving. Silver: Market very strong on rumours of inflation. Brokers' Loans were reported at $988,000,000, an increase of $24,000,000 from September 8th figure of $874,000,000. Our New York Office cable (Last Night). Stocks: The market reflecting remarkable National Recovery Act demonstration and higher commodity prices. Would maintain positions. Wheat: Liverpool unresponsive to our advance which is due to strong buying and further tightening in cash and Government's plan to subsidize Pacific Coast wheat to the Orient; bullish continuance of yesterday's buying likely. Cotton: Buying more general on expectation of renewed efforts of the Government for higher commodity prices although there is nothing new on inflation. Dow-Jones averages:

PRIMO'S SHOES

18½ INCHES LONG:
9 INCHES HIGH!

New York. Almost as much care and labour as goes into the construction of a house, is expended in manufacturing a pair of ring shoes for Primo Carnora, new heavyweight champion of the world.

The shoe firm which makes the giant boxer's shoes has released the plans, specifications and material used.

They are nine inches high; 18½ inches long; standard size, 2½; width, 6 and have no reflexes. The uppers are unlined, made of special unstretchable yellow buck kangaroo with striped webbing across the instep for reinforcement.

The heavy buckskin soles are quilted across the ball and heel portion which practically makes it a spike shoe without spikes and rough on an adversary's feet if Carnora inadvertently steps on them.

The shoe also has a strip of Swedish watch steel interposed convexly between the inner and outer soles, under the arch to withstand the tremendous pressure when Primo's weight is thrown forward.—Reuter.

TROUBLESOME TRIBE.

POLICE HURRYING TO GROOTE ISLAND

Sydney, Sept. 14. As a sequel to the murder of five Japanese in Arnhem Land, north Australia, last year, a party of native policemen, led by white officers, is hurrying to Groote Island, off the Arnhem Land coast, from Port Darwin, because of threats against missionaries there. It appears that the missionaries were threatened by the native tribesmen because the latter believed they had discovered and disclosed the whereabouts of the murderers of the five Japanese. The police will act as a protective body for the missionaries and at the same time investigate the story of the threats.—Reuter.

of the welcome extended them, which augured well for the success of future conversations. The meeting lasted an hour, during which time the chairman of the Lancashire delegation, Mr. Barlow, addressed the welcoming speech to the visitors. Mr. Kadono Okada replied. No programme has yet been set. Both delegations lunched together at a neighbouring restaurant.—Reuter.

TOO LATE IN YEAR

MOLLISONS MAY NOT FLY TO ALEPPO

New York, Sept. 14. Amy Mollison left for Toronto to-day to supervise the preparation of the plane in which she and her husband planned to break the world's long distance record.

Interviewed before her departure, she said it was not finally settled that they should make their projected flight from Toronto to Aleppo this year.

Personally, she thought the latest advisable date was past, and that there was now danger of ice forming on the wings of the plane. Everything depended on "Jim", she added.—Reuter.

NATIONAL GUARD MOBILISED IN PENNSYLVANIA COAL AREA

Bloodshed Marks Opening of Coal Code Strike

New York, Sept. 14.

Scenes of violence even more serious than those which marked the strike of a month ago were witnessed at Uniontown, in West Pennsylvania, to-day when the coal strike commenced officially.

Serious bloodshed occurred in the early morning during rioting at the three mines in the Fayette County coal area.

Six were shot down and over twenty were clubbed. The police, according to reports, opened fire on the strikers after trouble with the pickets, who grew violent.

The entire area is now virtually in a state of martial law.

The miners are striking as a result of the delay of the proprietors in signing the Coal Code, which provides for a thirty-six hour week and a minimum wage of three dollars a day.

Warning of the strike intention was given at a mass meeting held last week.

Over seventy thousand men are affected.

MARTIAL LAW. Soon after first news of the outbreak of violence was received, the Governor of Pennsylvania hurriedly and secretly drafted orders for the mobilisation of the National Guard and the military forces are being rushed to the danger zone.

All steps are being taken to place the region under military control till the trouble blows over. Meanwhile, the Administration is greatly displeased by the developments and President Roosevelt has sent Federal agents to Uniontown to investigate the shooting and the cause of the outbreak.

PATIENCE BROKEN DOWN. The President's patience regarding the delay in signing the Coal Code has finally broken down as the result of the outrage, and he summoned Brig. General Johnson, the Recovery Administrator, to the White House and ordered immediate conclusion of the negotiations, declaring that the time has come for "definite action."

PEKING AGITATION OVER DIRECTOR'S POST

Peking, Sept. 14. The agitation for the reinstatement of Pao Yu-lin as Director of Public Safety continues. This morning various local organisations, which have been most active in the campaign for his retention, inaugurated a committee and decided to telegraph to Nanking, urging the Government to reconsider its decision.

In the meantime, Yu Chin-ho, the new Director of Public Safety, who is on sick leave, has had his leave extended two weeks by the Mayor, who has appointed Chu Jueing, the police chief in charge of the East City, as acting Director pending Yu's assumption of office.

ENGINEER ARRESTED AT MANCHULI

According to a local newspaper, M. Kritz-Kvat, an engineer employed by the Zabajkai Railway, has been arrested at Manchuli while attempting to leave Manchukuo without a visa.

M. Kritz-Kvat boarded a Zabajkai Railway locomotive engaged in shunting operations as it was about to return to Soviet territory, but he was detained by the Manchukuo authorities, because he was unable to produce a visa.

He was released subsequently after signing a written declaration that he would not, in future, attempt to leave Manchukuo without first obtaining the necessary visa.—Reuter.

SPAIN AVERTS CRISIS

Radical Leader to Form New Government

COUNTRY EXPECTANT

Madrid, Sept. 10.

Don Alejandro Lerroux y Garcia, leader of the Radical party, oldest Republican organisation in Spain last night accepted the invitation of President Niceto Alcalá Zamora to form a government and chart a new course for the young republic.

Acceptance of the task by Senor Lerroux is interpreted to mean that President Zamora has taken the only step that holds out a possibility of saving the present Cortes and of bringing a semblance of co-operation between the various clashing parties.

A little more than a month ago the Socialist party leaders declared that they would not hesitate to resort to revolution if they were ignored in any general reorganisation of the Government.

It was understood to-night that the new Premier will slacken somewhat the enforcement of the statutes against the Catholic Church and especially the one which deprived some 80,000 priests and nuns of the right to teach in the schools.

Whether Senor Lerroux can obtain any satisfactory working agreement with the Socialists, is doubted in many quarters. However, it was said that President Zamora, on the verge of a nervous breakdown because of the growing discontent in the country, believes that the new Premier can save the situation. Premier Manuel Azana who controls or did control some 112 Socialist votes in the Cortes is believed to be out of the political picture for the time being. His "strong" hand was resented by the Church and by the radicals and other political parties.

Meanwhile, all Spain is waiting to see the list of new ministers and also to hear the statement of policy. Senor Azana was favourable to the Catalan group and dispatches reported that leaders in Barcelona feared that Senor Lerroux might not be as friendly toward the "state within the state."

MONARCHISTS ARRESTED.

Early in June when the Spanish populace became restive and President Zamora feared the outbreak of a class war, he dismissed Premier Azana and invited Senor Lerroux to form a government. He had hoped that by this appointment a working agreement could be arranged between the Radical and Socialist parties. Under Senor Lerroux's leadership the Radical Party had become comparatively moderate. However, Senor Lerroux declined to co-operate with the Socialists and consequently President Zamora was compelled to call back Premier Azana whom he chose.

Conditions did not improve. In August the Azana government caused the arrest of 500 monarchists and syndicalists and alleged there was a conspiracy between them to overthrow the Republic. This statement brought widespread ridicule and the Azana cabinet continued to weaken until the last resignation which was in reality forced like the preceding one.

It was said to-night that President Zamora realises the Government cannot go on against the opposition of so many groups. The Church has brought pressure on him to ease the laws providing for confiscation of property and restriction of church activities and conservatives have contended there is too much politics and too little constructive leadership.

MOTORING ISSUE

RESPONSIBILITIES OF DRIVERS

A case of interest to all motorists in the Colony came before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning when Mr. Lam Ming-fan was summoned for allowing a learner driver to drive a car, of which he was in charge, in an area not stipulated in the learner-driver's licence.

It was alleged by Inspector Nicol that Mr. Lam was sitting in the front seat beside a learner driver who was at the steering wheel. The car did not belong to Mr. Lam.

His Worship.—How could Mr. Lam be in charge of the car?

Inspector Nicol.—He was sitting beside the learner driver.

His Worship.—But that does not make him in charge?—Yes, it does.

Do you mean to tell me that if I have a car licensed in my name, and you are a licensed driver and you sit in front while I sit at the back, and a third party, an unlicensed driver, drives the car, you are the man in charge?—Yes.

Why?—I would then be in a position to apply the hand brake and take over the wheel in case of emergency.

Where is it laid down?—It is not laid down, but that's the view of the Police.

Referring to the summons against Mr. Lam, his Worship observed that Mr. Lam was charged with allowing an unlicensed driver to drive the car. "If Mr. Lam was not the owner of the car, how could he have the legal right to allow or refuse anybody to drive the car," his Worship added.

Inspector Nicol agreed with his Worship's view and asked leave to withdraw the summons. He intimated he would take out a fresh summons against the licensed owner of the car.

His Worship.—You are right there. I think you should do that.

The summons against Mr. Lam was accordingly dismissed.

Mr. Tang Shiu-kin was fined $5 for driving in an area not stipulated in his learner-driver's licence. Mr. Tang was the unlicensed driver concerned in the previous case.

BUS PLUNGES INTO LOCH

24 PASSENGERS IN PERIL

THE INJURED

Oban, Aug. 20.

Twenty-six people in a motor-bus, travelling on a day excursion from Glasgow to Oban this afternoon, had amazing escapes from death when the bus crashed over the edge of the road in the Pass of Brander and careered into Loch Awe.

Four people were detained in hospital at Oban. They are: Miss Mattie Leithhead, Avonholm place, Glasgow;

Mrs. Isa Gray and Miss Annie Gray, Duke-street Glasgow, and Mr. Leithhead, Parson-street, Glasgow.

David Robertson, Springburn; Hugh Gray, Duke-street; Allan Leithhead, Nansen-street, and John Weir, of Allington, all of Glasgow.

The bus had slowed down at a narrow part of the road to allow a car to pass when, without warning, the part of the road on which the vehicle was travelling collapsed, and the bus raced down the slope into the water. As it reached the loch it toppled over on to its roof.

Luckily, it stopped just in the loch. Had it gone any further all the occupants must have been drowned. Near this spot the water is 40 fathoms deep.

The driver and owner of the bus is Mr. Bernard Catter, of Motherwell-road, Bellshill, Glasgow.

FIGHTING A WAY OUT.

The accident occurred at two o'clock and the road at the time was busy with traffic. When the road caved in, and passengers in the cars saw the plight of the excursion party in the bus in the loch, they left their cars and gave what assistance they could. To extricate them from the bus, a single decker, the passengers had to break the panes of glass from the interior.

While fighting their way out of the bus the passengers were in danger of being suffocated or drowned. All suffered severely from the shock and cuts.

THE PRINCESS JULIANA

ROYAL ENGAGEMENT DENIED

The H.K.A.A. is entitled to publish the fact that it is federated with the A.A., the term "federated" implying that the H.K.A.A. are respectively independent, but bound by a resolve to further each other's interests and objects in all ways possible.

This Agreement to take effect on signature by both parties and remain in force until determined by either party giving to the other six months previous notice in writing.

AUTOMOBILE ASSN.

FEDERATION AGREEMENT PUBLISHED

A federation agreement between the Hongkong Automobile Association and the Automobile Association of Great Britain and Ireland has now been entered into. As explained in the appended copy, the term "federated" implies that the two bodies are independent, but bound by a resolution to further each other's interests and objects in all ways possible.

The agreement reads:

The Automobile Association of Great Britain (A.A.) and the Hongkong Automobile Association (H.K.A.A.) agree as follows:

1. The H.K.A.A. is entitled to adopt a modified form of the A.A. badge. Such modification and the wording to be used upon the badge to be mutually agreed.

2. The A.A. to accept individual members of the H.K.A.A. temporarily visiting Great Britain and Ireland for a subscription of £1.1s. to cover 12 months' membership and to provide full membership benefits—the subscription for motor-cyclists to be 10s. 6d., entrance fee in both cases being waived.

3. The member of the H.K.A.A. may use his H.K.A.A. badge on British roads only on condition that the aforementioned subscription has been paid.

4. A member of the H.K.A.A. will, on joining the A.A., be supplied with membership card, telephone service key, handbook and other regular matter.

5. If convenient to all concerned, the H.K.A.A. will collect and remit subscriptions in advance to the London Head Office in a manner and at intervals to be arranged.

When On Visit.

6. Members of the A.A. permanently resident overseas are entitled to retain their membership subscription of 10s. 6d. Such members are entitled, when visiting Great Britain and Ireland temporarily, to full membership benefits for a period not exceeding six months in the membership year then current. If a visit exceeds six months, the balance of the ordinary £2.2s. subscription for a car member and £1.1s. for a small car or motor-cycle member is payable.

This arrangement will apply to an overseas member of the A.A. resident in Hongkong, who is not also a member of the H.K.A.A.

An overseas member of the A.A. resident in Hongkong, who is also a member of the H.K.A.A. will be entitled, as an A.A. member to six months full benefits in Great Britain and Ireland without payment of a further subscription, but if the temporary visit exceeds six months, a further 10s. 6d. only will be required, representing the special £1.1s. subscription rate available to members of the H.K.A.A.

7. In the case of a member of the H.K.A.A. who moves permanently to Great Britain or Ireland and wishes to support the A.A., the ordinary rates of subscription would apply, the entrance fee being waived. In such cases:

(a) Unless membership of the H.K.A.A. is retained, the H.K.A.A. badge would not be valid in Great Britain or Ireland and would be withdrawn. On being notified that the H.K.A.A. badge has been withdrawn, the A.A. will supply its own badge free on payment of the ordinary A.A. subscription.

(b) Where H.K.A.A. membership is retained, the H.K.A.A. badge may be displayed in Great Britain or Ireland in addition to the A.A. badge, which latter will

RED-HOT METAL SHOWERS

Crowd's Rush From Explosions

Men, women and children ran for their lives when pieces of red hot metal fell among them during a fire which caused oxygen cylinders to explode at Leytonstone.

Doors were wrenched from their hinges.

Windows of houses and a cinema were shattered.

A factory was extensively damaged.

Hot metal fell on a railway line, to which flames spread.

A passenger train was held up. No one was injured.

The fire occurred in a yard between two factories of the London Battery and Cable Company, accumulated manufacturers, Kirkdale-road. The railway line runs alongside of the yard.

100ft. SMOKE SPIRAL

Twenty-four oxygen cylinders and hundreds of accumulators, which were stored in the yard, were destroyed.

There were three explosions, and just after the first a spiral of smoke over 1000 ft. high shot into the air.

Soon afterwards the second explosion broke windows in the Rialto Cinema and the caretaker's house in Kirkdale-road School. Practically every pane of glass in the factory was blown out.

Pieces of burning material fell over an area of a quarter of a mile. A train had stopped in Leytonstone (L.N.E.R.) station just before the first explosion, and it was delayed until an "all clear" signal from the firemen.

A fence running beside the line was burned down. Passengers stated that the train was shaken by the explosion.

A loud report and shattered a window in Queen's-road, Battersea, an electrical distributing box blew up, considerable part of the pavement from flying debris.

A similar incident occurred, also at Culling-road, Rotherhithe.

REPTILE DOPED WITH SLEEPING DRAUGHT

Istanbul.

This is the true story of a young Turk, a snake 3½-yards long and a chemist.

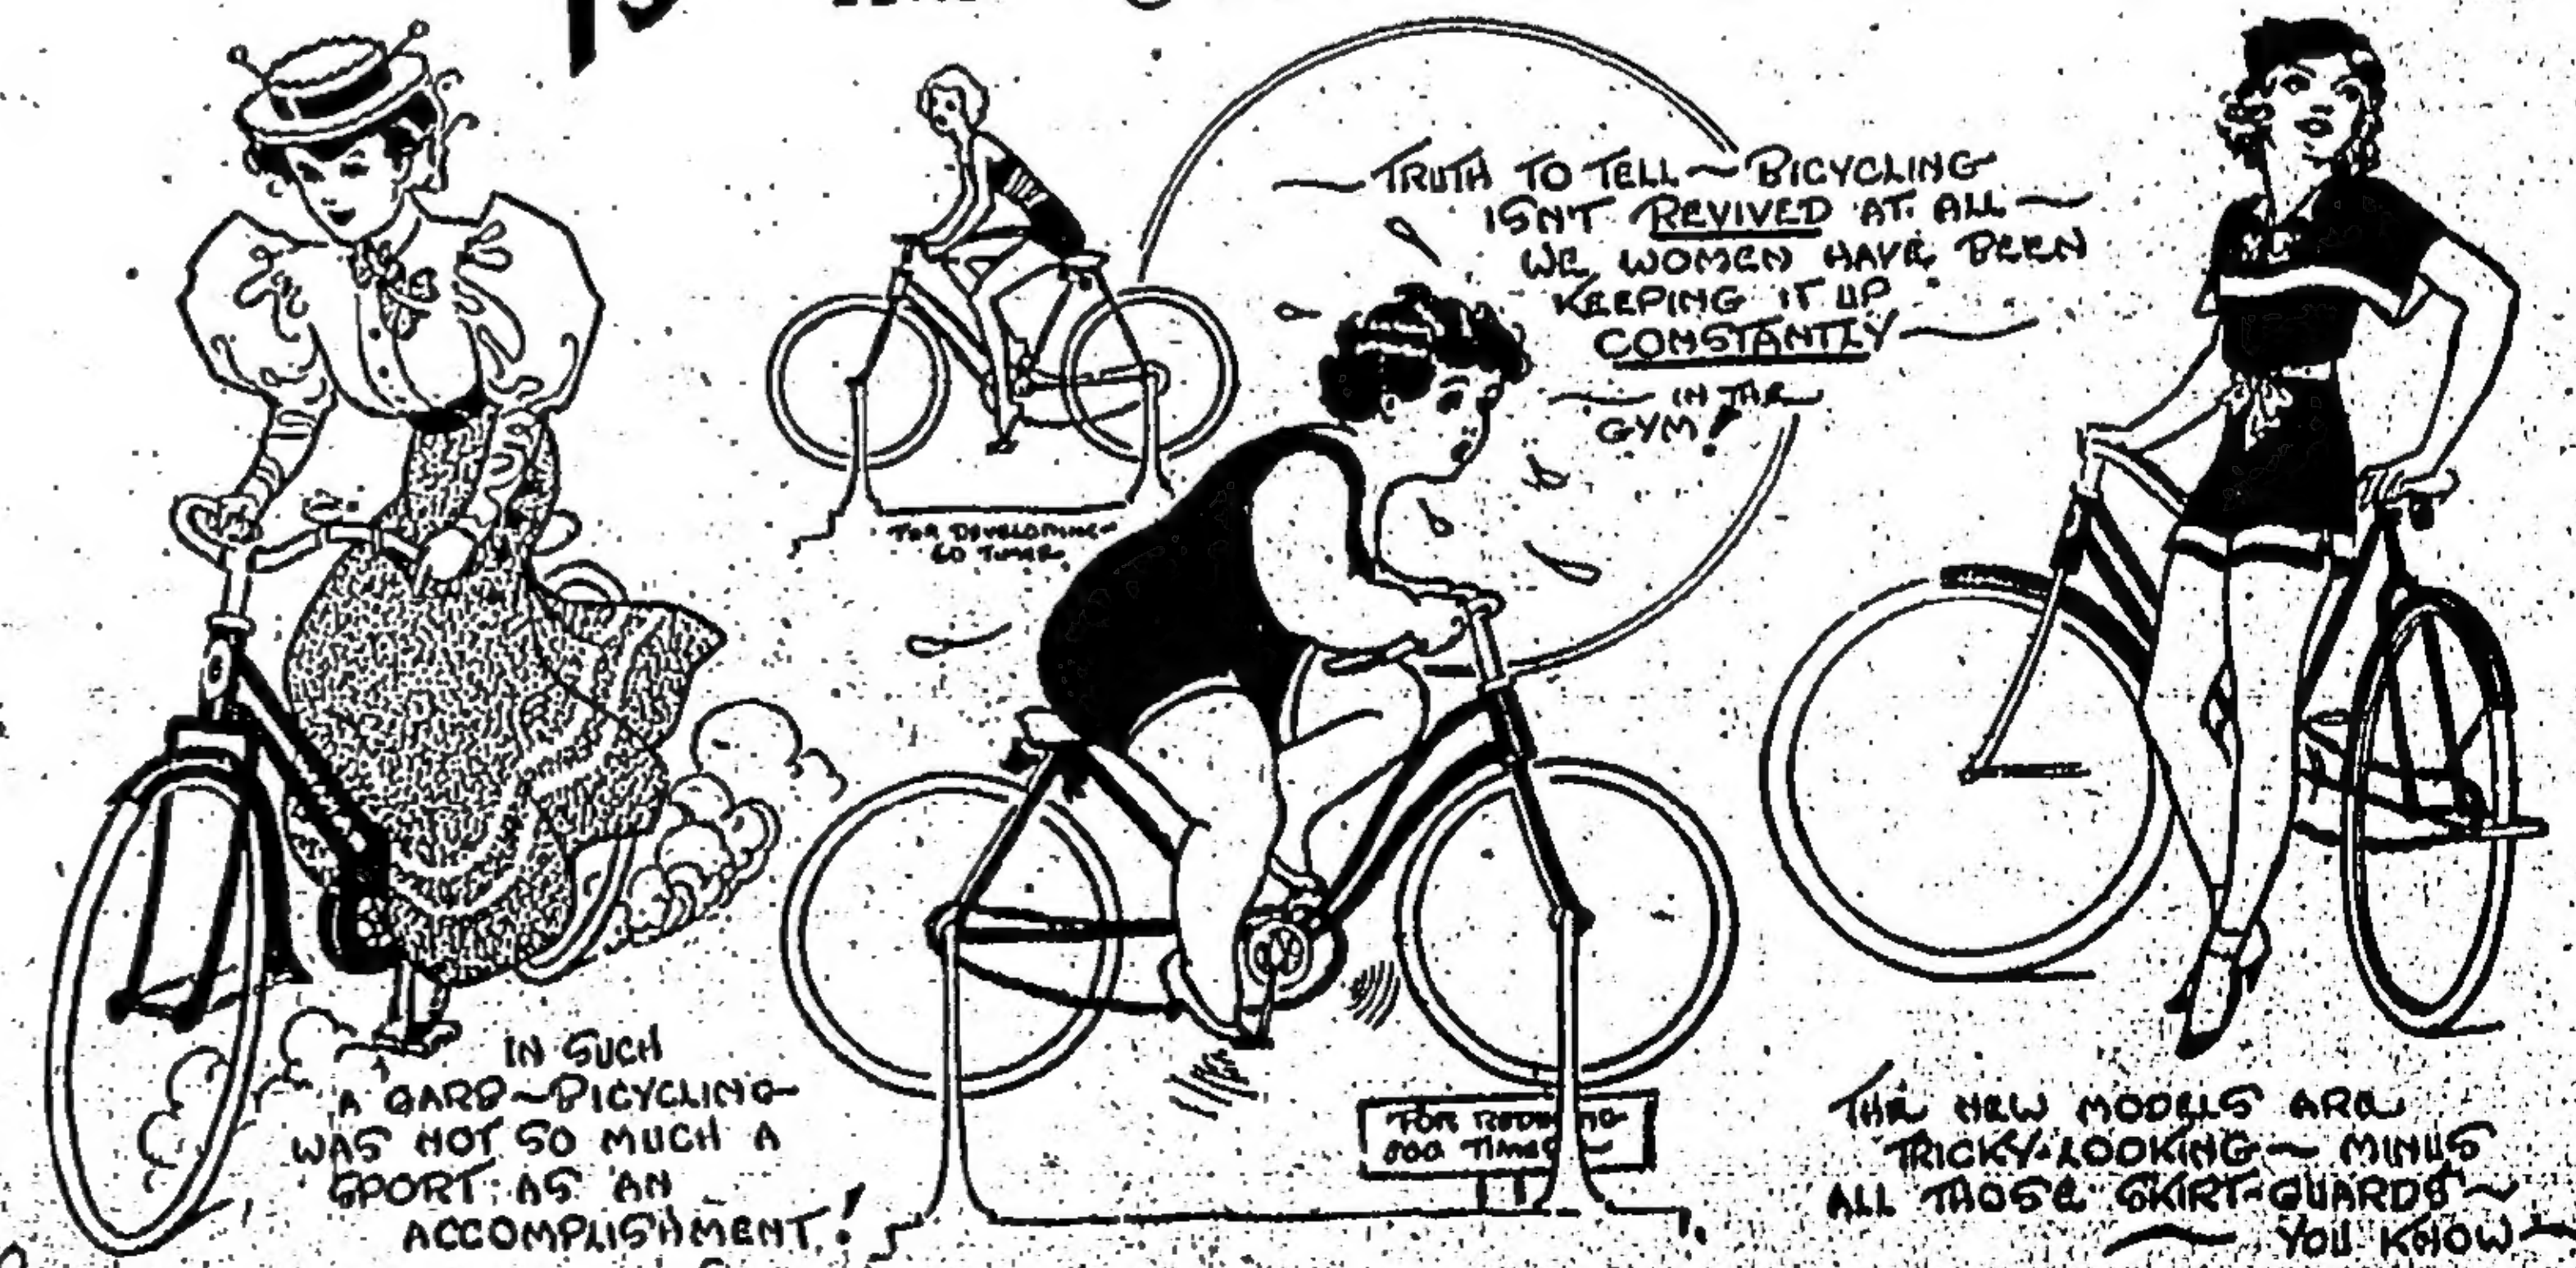

The Turk was taking a walk alone on an Anatolian plain. Suddenly a powerful yellow snake more than ten feet long attacked him.

For six hours the Turk fought the snake—and kept it from biting him. But he could not kill it.

At last he lured the snake to a nearby village. The local chemist, seeing his plight, dashed out with a phial of sleeping draught and doped the snake.

The snake turned over, dropped fast asleep and was painlessly killed.—Reuter.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

A player's real ability at the bridge table should be judged on
how strong a defence he can put
up. It is surprising the number of players who can handle the dummy well but who fail miserably on
defence.

The following defensive play is
not extremely difficult, and I was pleased to note, in the men's pair game at the National Championship tournament of the American Bridge League at Aubury Park, N. J., that few pairs failed to put
up the proper defence.

The Bidding

South and West both passed and North opened the bidding with one spade. East overcalled with two hearts. South bid two spades—
this overcall of two spades is a highly constructive bid. North responded with two-no trump and
South went to four spades.

The Play

East's opening lead was the fourth best club which was won in dummy with the ace. A small
spade was won with declarer's ace
and another spade returned and
won in dummy with the king. The king of clubs was cashed and the
declarer then trumped the four of

clubs. He next played the ace of
diamonds and here is where East
had an opportunity of making a
good defensive play.

If he plays a small diamond the
declarer will lead another diamond
and let him hold the next trick
with the jack, and then all he can do is to cash his ace of hearts and
the declarer's contract is made.
However, if West plays the jack of diamonds on the declarer's ace,
the declarer cannot help but lose
two diamonds and two hearts as West is going to be in on a diamond and can lead through his
king of hearts.

WICKING & CO. WIN CLAIM
AND COUNTER CLAIM

Choy Kwang-kwai, merchant, of
43, Peel Street, sued Harry Wicking
& Co., of Prince's Building, for $404.05 brokerage at the Supreme Court yesterday.

Defendants counter-claimed for $160 collected by plaintiff without authority and $98.29 in respect of
over-paid commission.

Plaintiff admitted the first counter-
claim and reduced his claim
accordingly.

Mr. C. Lowe who appeared for Choy Kwang-kwai stated that the
money was due to his client for engineering certain contracts between
the defendant and other firms.

A Chinese commission broker gave
evidence for plaintiff.
For the defence Mr. Harry Owen
Hughes of the defendant company
testified that the practice in broker-
age was not to pay commission until
the transaction was completed. In this case the goods were undeliver-
ed.

Judgment was given for defendant,
who was allowed costs.
Mr. H. J. Armstrong, of Messrs.
Deacons, represented plaintiffs.

WORLD CRISIS

A WAY OUT

By FREDERICK COPE, A.M.I.E.E.

Mr. Cope's striking articles on the world economic crisis
which were recently published in the Hongkong Telegraph
are now available in pamphlet form.

One of the features, repaying study, is the close similarity
between the plan of reform suggested by this local writer,
and certain aspects of the Roosevelt recovery programme.
The author's ideas are naturally far too advanced for active promotion at the present time, but they are particularly interesting in view of the fact that President Roosevelt, in striking out on a path of his own, has travelled in the same direction.

The pamphlet is one of forty-four pages and can be obtained from the South China Morning Post at a cost of—

CINEMA SCREENINGS

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES

There was an element of doubt in the mind of that lovely Lella Farnas. Would "The Man from Toronto" marry her just for the sake of the money that would accrue from such a marriage? Or would he, if she assumed for the time being another identity, let the money go and wed her for herself alone? After all, a woman enjoys a certain prerogative and it occurs to Jessie Matthews (who is Lella) that there must be some certain way of testing the Colonial gentleman's fidelity.

Fergus Wimbush had come from Canada to England, drawn thither by the quaint will of Simon Hartopp. That will bequeathed a large sum jointly to him and Lella, on condition that they made a match of it. A provoking will, to be sure; but half a million's half a million! In this merry film version of Douglas Murray's stage play, we are treated to a plucky comedy of cross-purposes. Here, Lella, his fellow-legatee, posing as a maid-servant, determined to ascertain if, as mere "Polly Perkins," she can induce him to propose, the legacy notwithstanding. And here, on the other hand, is the unsuspecting Colonial "falling for the pretty 'slavery,'" and half inclined to turn down the legacy and carry Polly off to Canada. But fate intervenes and the Canadian is furious at the deception, unable to forgive Lella's thorough-going leg-pulling. How it all ends, and how an attack of mumps at the village paragon precipitates the disclosure, is part of a rollicking story at the King's that is certain to be thoroughly enjoyed.

Crabbe is cast as a youth, who, orphaned in the African jungle at an early age, grows up with a pack of roaming lions and ultimately becomes their leader. Captured while trying to rescue one of the pack who is trapped, he is brought to the United States where he becomes head trainer in a circus.

The film reaches its climax when fire breaks out in the circus, and the hysterical animals break loose from their cages to roam through the streets of a large city, leaving a trail of death and destruction.

"The Great Jasper"

Richard Dix scores probably his greatest triumph in "The Great Jasper" despite the epic qualities of "Cimarron" and "The Conqueror," for in his new RKO-Radio Picture he plays a straight character role—and plays it flawlessly.

The Central Theatre is the scene of Dix's new triumph. "The Great Jasper" is a translation to the screen, literally and in spirit, of Fulton Oursler's novel of the same name. And Jasper is the most beguiling lover who ever begged pardon in advance of his conquest.

SELERIDGE'S
LONDON, W.I.

The story is a stirring, heart-throbbing one laced with rather delicious natural humour. Jasper is ordered to leave his town when his boss and benefactor discovers that Jasper and not himself is the father of his wife's son.

Jasper goes to Atlantic City, where he thinks a man ought to find plenty of fun. Thanks to the impression he makes on an old and homely fortune teller, he becomes a famous set "For Women Only." As his fortune and his affairs progress he is happy but for the stubbornness of Jenny, his wife, in refusing to live with him and their boy.

Years pass and Jasper and Jenny are almost united again through mutual love for the boy, now graduated from college and engaged to a beautiful girl.

A gripping climax arises when Jenny on the verge of forgiving Jasper, discovers the illegitimate son, and that son wrecks the happiness of the other boy by stealing his sweetheart.

Jasper finds himself in the peculiar position of being aligned, through his love for his own flesh and blood, against the very things he had always tolerated with a smile and a wink.

Dix is splendidly supported, Vera Engels, a new German importation, having a fresh young beauty that is charming. Florence Eldridge, Edna May Oliver, Bruce Cabot and Betty Furness acquit themselves well in important roles.

"Soldiers of the King"

Cicely Courtneidge performs an extremely funny acrobatic dancing act in "Soldiers of the King."

It comes about in this way. Miss Courtneidge is a member of a troupe called "The Marvellous." There is a Gala Performance, but the charming adagio dancer (played by Dorothy Dickson's daughter) is missing, and the comic Cicely steps in as her understudy.

In this picture Miss Courtneidge is seen both as the conscientious trouper and as her mother.

Another member of the troupe is Edward Everett Horton, the well-known Hollywood comedian, and Anthony Bushell is the soldier hero.

Maurice Elvey directed "Soldiers of the King" at Islington.

"Soldiers of the King" is coming next Sunday to the King's Theatre. It sweeps easily along providing irresponsible entertainment in which sentiment, song, patriotism, romance and clowning are mixed by hands well versed in the art of popular showmanship.

HEAVY DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

UN LONG BLAZE

Two fires broke out on the mainland in the early hours of this morning, in both of which extensive damage to property was caused.

The first outbreak occurred at the New Territories market town of Un Long, in a building of two floors, the lower of which where the fire originated, was occupied by a shop dealing in miscellaneous goods including joss-paper.

Commencing at 1.40 a.m. it continued to burn until 2.45 a.m.
when the local fire pump was reinforced by an engine from Kowloon in charge of Station Officer Moss.
By this time the adjacent structure in this two-building block was also being attacked by the flames.

With two pumps working, the outbreak was within a short time brought under control, and finally extinguished.

The contents of the two buildings were burnt out and much structural damage also caused.

DYEING WORKS BURNED OUT.

The other outbreak was also of an extensive nature, the scene
being the Yim Sim Dyeing Works at 217 Cheungahawan, beyond Shamshui. The fire occurred at 3.10 a.m., but it was not until a little after 4 a.m. that a call

NINETEEN GIVEN LONG PRISON TERMS

Sofia, Sept. 10.
Sixteen Bulgarian Communists were sentenced to-day to death while nineteen others were condemned to sixteen and thirteen years penal servitude respectively.
Fourteen others received sentences ranging from one and a half to five years imprisonment.

All were found guilty of Communist propaganda and attempts to form cells within the army.
In several cases these attempts had been successful. In connection with the judgment it was announced that all further attempts on the part of the Communists to conspire against the state will be mercilessly dealt with as this was the only way to curb the underground activities of the revolutionaries.

was received by the Kowloon Fire Brigade, by which time as well as be imagined, considerable progress had been attained by the flames.

Clothing and equipment to the value of over $2,700 were destroyed by the time the firemen got to work, with three appliances, and extinguished the fire, it is claimed, in eight minutes.

The whole building was practically destroyed.

GRAND-DAD AT SCHOOL

L.C.C. WINTER PROGRAMME

BROAD SCOPE OF SYLLABUS

London, Sept. 14.
About a quarter of a million
Londoners, mostly, but not all of them, young will next week resume their studies under the extremely comprehensive system existing in the Metropol-
education.

The Winter programme, mainly organised by the London County Council, offers a choice of no less than 20,000 classes on almost every conceivable subject.

Most of them deal with languages, branches of science and art, handicrafts, professions or trades, but the syllabus is sufficiently broad to include such subjects as lip reading for the deaf and the cure of stammering.

The importance of these classes is indicated by the fact that during the current year 65,000 boys and girls are leaving the London County Council Schools and the evening classes enable them at a trivial cost to specialise in subjects likely to be helpful to them.

There is no age limit to the classes and, in one instance, a grandfather, aged seventy, is studying in company with his son and grandson.—British Wireless.

AIRMAN CRASHES

INJURY

Nanking, Sept. 14.
Colonel Chen Wen-lin, Director of the Naval Aviation Bureau, who is making a round-the-country flight in the plane Kiangtho, made a forced landing yesterday afternoon at 4 p.m. at Sanpao railway station, 30-40 miles from Haikow.

Although Colonel Chen and his mechanic were uninjured, the machine was damaged. The plane was repaired by train to Haikow, arriving there this morning. Colonel Chen has telegraphed to the Ministry of Navy to send mechanics to Haikow to effect repairs.

Interviewed by pressmen, Colonel Chen Wen-lin declared he would continue his flight as soon as the machine is repaired.—
